UK plans to rewrite human rights law

London: The British government on Wednesday unveiled plans for a Bill of Rights it says will strengthen free speech and the power of Parliament but that critics argue will rip up human rights protections for ordinary people. The government published the bill days after courts in the UK and Europe, on human rights grounds, stopped PM Boris Johnson's Conservative administration deporting people seeking asylum in Britain to Rwanda.

BIDEN CALLS FOR 3-MONTH SUSPENSION OF FUEL TAX

US President Joe Biden has also called on states to suspend their own gas taxes or provide similar relief, the White House said

CONSUMERS TO SAVE 3.6% AT THE PUMP

The federal tax on gas is 18.4 cents-a-gallon, while it is 24.4 cents on diesel. In his speech to Congress on Wednesday, Biden will suggest suspending fuel tax till September, the White House said. If the benefits are fully passed on to consumers, it will translate into 3.6% saving at the pump. Biden also called on energy firms to accept lower profit margins to raise oil production

MOVE TO SALVAGE PREZ'S LOW RATINGS

- White House had been considering a gas tax holiday for months, but held off till now over concerns how Congress will take it. The latest move comes at a time when Biden's ratings have taken a battering as inflation soared to its highest level since the 1980s and the national average gas price has reached $5 per gallon

Shinde rejects Uddhav's CMship offer

Pawar tries to play peacemaker; chief minister issues emotional appeal to the rebels; vacates official residence

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

WITH the Uddhav Thackeray-led government in Maharashtra wobbling following a massive revolt in the Shiv Sena, NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Wednesday tried to save it by suggesting rebel leader Eknath Shinde be made the new chief minister to contain the haemorrhage, but the latter promptly rejected the offer.

With the writing on the wall, Uddhav vacated Varsha, his official residence in south Mumbai, and left for his family's Matoshree bungalow in Bandra.

Pawar, the chief architect of the three-party Maha Vikas Aghadi, called on Uddhav along with Supriya Sule and housing minister Jitendra Ahwad and proposed that the chief ministership be offered to Shinde while Uddhav stays as party president. His logic was the CM post is part of Shiv Sena's quota and must stay that way.

But Shinde, whose rebel group has numerical majority among lawmakers in the Shiv Sena, rejected the offer, saying his action was in the larger interests of the party, adding there will be compromise with the Hindutva ideology.

Earlier in the day, Uddhav made an emotional webcast appeal saying he was ready to resign as both CM and party head if the rebels meet him face to face and ask him to do so. But after the speech, Sena leader Sanjay Raut tweeted that they will fight till the last moment.

Uddhav admitted that during the pandemic and due to his spinal surgery, he could not interact with party lawmakers earlier, but was now meeting them. He lauded Pawar and Congress chief Sonia Gandhi, with whose party the Sena is in an alliance, saying they were very cooperative and kind.

"I am ready to resign as the CM. Our rebelling MLAs should choose a CM from amongst themselves. The CM should be from Shiv Sena... Why speak from Surat and Guwahati, please come to Mumbai and talk to me. If you do not want to meet me, at least call and convey your thoughts," he said.

Rebutting Shinde's charge on compromising with Hindutva, Uddhav said: "Aditya Thackeray recently went to Ayodhya with Shinde. Hindutva is part of Shiv Sena. I may be the first Maharashtra CM who spoke on Hindutva in the state Assembly. I am not a person who will stick to the CM's chair. I have already written the resignation letter," said Uddhav adding that he would not like anyone voting from his party against him in the floor test.

Uddhav said he was pained that his own people were saying he should not be the CM. He claimed he was not worried about the numbers. "Numbers are not important, people are," he said trying to tug at the rebels' heartstrings.

Rebels 'elect' him Sena legislative party leader

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

A day after the Shiv Sena sacked rebel leader Eknath Shinde as the head of the party in the Maharashtra Assembly, his loyalists appointed him as the party's legislative party leader and named a new party whip.

After shifting the 34 rebel MLAs to Guwahati from Surat overnight, Shinde sought to consolidate his position, as the party brass in Mumbai called a legislative party meeting and threatened to invoke the anti-defection law. Shinde's group appointed Bharat Gogawale as the new party whip replacing Sunil Prabhu.

Shinde claimed he had support of 40 Sena MLAs and that numbers will go up by and by. If Shinde can prove he has 37 of them with him, then they will escape the defection law.

A resolution adopted by the rebels sought to paint the Uddhav government as corrupt, pointing to the serious allegations against jailed Aghadi leaders Anil Deshmukh and Nawab Malik. "The Congress and the NCP are using their office and power to undermine the base and foundation our Shiv Sena cadre," the resolution alleged.

"The Sena is a party with strong ideology and was formed for fighting for the rights the Marathi manoos. Since the last two-and-a-half years, our party and its leadership compromised on its principles. Severing the alliance with the BJP has had a tremendous negative impact on the voters and party cadre at large," the resolution read.

It added that the party's leaders were facing tremendous pressure from their electorate. "We have been subjected to lot of criticism for being part of this corrupt government."

Four more in Guwahati

Another chartered plane with four Sena MLAs arrived in Guwahati on Wednesday to join the rebel Shiv Sena legislators who reached the city earlier, sources said

CBI arrests Biocon exec, 4 others in bribery case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has arrested five persons including Joint Drug Controller (JDC), Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSCO), S Eswara Reddy; Director, Bioinnovat Research Services Pvt Ltd, Delhi, Guljit Sethi alias Guljit Chaudhary; Director, Synergy Network India Pvt Ltd, Dinesh Dua; Associate Vice-President & Head, National Regulatory Affairs (NRA), Biocon Biologics, Bangalore, L Praveen Kumar; Assistant Drug Inspector, CDSCO, Animesh Kumar in an alleged bribery case. Praveen Kumar was arrested from Bengaluru and taken to Delhi on Tuesday on transit remand.

The CBI had laid a trap on June 20 and caught Reddy while allegedly accepting Rs four lakh in cash as bribe to reportedly waive the phase three clinical trial of the 'Insulin Aspart injection.'

Sethi, according to CBI, was handling the government regulatory works for Biocon Biologics and Dua has business relations with Sethi.

Biocon Biologics, which is a subsidiary of the Kiran Mazumdar Shaw-led Biocon in a media statement on Tuesday, strongly denied allegations of "bribery against the company and its officials associated with the approval process of one of our products in India," and added that, "all our product approvals are legitimate and backed by science and clinical data… We follow due regulatory process for all our product approvals by DCGI. The entire application process in India is online and all meeting minutes can be found on the website of the CDSCO."

The company added that the "rationale for waiver of Phase 3 clinical trials was based on the following Indian regulatory guidance (Similar Biologics Guidelines 2016 & New Drugs and Clinical Trials 2019 (GSR 227E)". CONTINUED ON: P5

Following registration of the case on June 20, the CBI on Wednesday carried out coordinated searches on 12 properties of the accused in Mumbai. P10

COMED-K to merge with CET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government announced on Wednesday that the Consortium of Medical, Engineering and Dental Colleges of Karnataka (COMED-K) examination will be merged with the Common Entrance Test (CET) in the coming academic year. The decision, taken at a meeting convened by Higher Education Minister Ashwath Narayan, also decided a 10 per cent fee hike for private engineering colleges.

The higher education department said COMED-K and CET will be conducted at the all-India level, rather than the state level.

Meanwhile, following demands from the Karnataka Unaided Private Engineering Colleges Association to raise engineering course fees in private colleges by 25 per cent, the minister said the fee hike is applicable only to those students who have been allotted a government seat in private engineering colleges.

New Omicron sub-lineages found in B'luru

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

Karnataka Minister for Health and Family Welfare Dr K Sudhakar on Wednesday confirmed the prevalence of new sub-lineages of Omicron -- BA.3, BA.4 and BA.5 – in Covid-19 cases reported in Bengaluru.

Health Commissioner D Randeep told TNIE that INSACOG (Indian SARS Cov2 Genomics Consortium) confirmed the presence of BA.3, BA.4 and BA.5 in the genomic sequencing of 44 samples which tested positive between June 2 and 9.

Dr Sudhakar revealed that BA.5 was confirmed in 38 samples, BA.4 in four samples and BA.3 in two samples. The new variants are observed to be in the nascent phase – BA.3 constitutes 0.10 per cent of the cases reported in May-June, BA.4 constitutes 0.20 per cent, and BA.5 constitutes 1.70 per cent, he said.

Covid Technical Advisory Committee Chairman Dr M K Sudarshan said these new sub-lineages are more transmissible than the previous variants. They can also re-infect those who had contracted the Omicron variant of Covid-19 in January this year. The symptoms are same -- stuffy nose, body ache, sore throat and fatigue -- but the severity of illness varies, depending on comorbid conditions, especially related to the heart, lung, kidney, liver and morbid obesity, he said.

BBMP: Idgah land does not belong to us

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a fresh development to the contentious Idgah Maidan issue at Chamarajapete in Bengaluru, the BBMP on Wednesday said that the land does not belong to it and added that if the Wakf board applies for khatha, it will verify and take steps accordingly within the legal framework.

Speaking to media, BBMP Commissioner Tushar Girinath said, "as per BBMP records dated 1974, the land is shown as municipality property. "Wakf board can apply for khatha along with supporting records and steps will be taken accordingly."

The Idgah Maidan in Chamarajapete, Bengaluru | SHRIRAM B N

The Palike had sent notices to the custodians of Idgah land asking for records following which the Central Muslim Association (CMA) sent a Supreme Court judgement copy and Gazette Notification dated 1965 favouring the 2.5 acres of land as Wakf property. The CMA also accused a BBMP revenue officer of playing mischief in this regard and creating confusion.

Hindu outfits had claimed that the land belonged to BBMP and also showed peace proceedings copy involving MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan, former MLA RV Devaraj, BJP leader Premila Nesargi and the ACP of the area.

BRAHMA KUMARIS

Murmu's spiritual calling at Mt Abu

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

A wave of excitement swept across the normally sedate Brahma Kumari spiritual fraternity after learning that Droupadi Murmu was set to be the country's new President.

For, Murmu has been a follower and a regular visitor of the Prajapita Brahma Kumari Spiritual University at Mount Abu in Rajasthan. The meditation technique she learnt from them helped her overcome grave personal tragedies in her life, as she unfortunately lost both her sons and husband in a span of five years.

Murmu's life has been full of struggles, hail as she does from the Santhal tribal community in Odisha. When one of her sons, Laxman, died in an accident in 2009, she went into depression. That was when she went to the Brahma Kumari headquarters to learn Raja Yoga meditation from the sisters there, informed the executive secretary of the institute, B K Mrityunjay.

He said Murmu was able to somehow come out of the shock, but then in 2013, her second son, too, died in an accident. And a year later, she lost her husband. "These tragic accidents brought an earthquake in her life, but she held the strings of spirituality so tightly that she got the strength to bear the adversities. She has a deep connection with spirituality and is constantly in touch with the headquarters of our institute," Mrityunjay said.

During an event at the Mt Abu centre, Murmu said, "I come here because brothers and sisters are very dear and I take their positivity and vibrations because the atmosphere here is different."

Many at Mt Abu recall her as saying that "when people change by taking advantage of the value-based education of this institution, then India will rise again".

This cop collected ₹2L fine in 6 hrs!

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A sub-inspector attached to the Kamakshipalya traffic police station has created a record of sorts. He has collected ₹2.04 lakh from traffic violators as fine on a single day. M Shivanna, the sub-inspector, collected the fine in a span of six hours on Tuesday from 11 am to 5 pm at the Jnanabharathi Junction. The Kamakshipalya traffic police has tweeted about the rare achievement of the officer along with his picture.

The officer collected fines for 249 traffic violations. The highest fine of ₹36,000 was paid by the owner of a SUV for 36 wrong parking violations which he committed across the city in the last six months. Shivanna told TNIE said that the fine amount collected by him was the highest collected in a day by Kamakshipalya traffic police station. The sub-inspector along with his team of traffic police constables were posted at the Jnanabharathi Junction to check violations. Only two-wheelers and cars were stopped by the team led by the sub-inspector. "Apart from the SUV, few two-wheelers had almost 15 cases registered against them and all of them were made to cough up fines. Most violations were for wrong parking followed by signal jumping and riding without a helmet," the traffic sub inspector said.

BDA HANDS OVER SITE TO THIMMAKKA

Yelahanka MLA S R Vishwanath hands over the sale deed to Thimmakka

BENGALURU: Padmashri awardee and noted environmentalist Saalumarada Thimmakka was on Wednesday handed over a Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) site measuring 50x80 sqft in Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout. The lease-cum-sale deed and registration papers were handed over to Thimmakka by BDA Chairman and Yelahanka MLA S R Vishwanath and BDA Commissioner Rajesh Gowda. The BDA officials said the site was handed over to her as per the directions of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. Thimmakka had met the CM on Tuesday. The BDA Commissioner said that the Social Welfare Department paid Rs 1.12 crore for the site. Thimmakka expressed her happiness and said that everyone should work for environment protection. ENS

BDA, residents to take up survey

CA site leased to educational trust in Arkavathy Layout; heritage GTS tower found on plot

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BANGALORE Development Authority (BDA) will undertake a fresh survey of a Civic Amenity (CA) site in Arkavathy Layout, which it had allocated to an educational trust on a 30-year lease period. Following much resistance by residents for two days, when preliminary construction work was undertaken by the trust authorities, the BDA and residents will carry out a joint survey to establish the exact location of the land.

The land was leased to Siddeshwara Educational Trust on May 29 this year.

A representative of Chokkanahalli Sampigehalli Abhivruthi Forum, which is spearheading the agitation on behalf of the residents, told TNIE, "The land parcel of 2.75 acres in Arkavathy Layout, near Jakkur, that has been leased out, lies adjacent to the 6.3-acre Venkateshwara Lake. In addition, a tower of the Great Trigonometric Survey (GTS) which was used to map locations and has great heritage value as it dates back to 1850 AD, is also located here. Both these structures are in grave danger if the Trust goes ahead with any construction." The Trust can be handed an equal parcel of land across the present site, where a park exists, he added.

FOR REPRESENTATION PURPOSE

Representatives from the Trust had come with earthmovers to demolish the quarry on Monday, as well as Tuesday morning. "On both days, residents refused to permit them to go ahead,. The place holds heritage value and will get destroyed, apart from the lake getting ruined," another representative said.

BDA Commissioner Rajesh Gowda said, "We will carry out a survey to gather more details on the land in question."

Authority threatens to cancel plan of villa project

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A retired senior citizen's fight for justice against a builder has resulted in the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) issuing a notice to Total Environment Building Systems Private Limited, which is constructing a posh villa project in Bengaluru North. The BDA has warned that the plans approved by it for the project as well as the 'Partial Occupancy' certificate will be cancelled if it fails to explain the non-completion of project and other alleged violations.

Verghese Stephen, a retired businessman, bought a 4BHK villa for Rs 5.77 cr in 'After the Rain' project by Total Environment. It is being built at Sir MVIT College Road in Bettahalasur village in Jala Hobli and will have have 244 villas and 40 Economically Weaker Section units. The project obtained RERA certification too.

Stephen told TNIE, "Almost all the villas have already been sold though it is far from complete. As on date, 70 villas have been given 'Partial Occupancy' certificates by BDA. Of them, 64 villas do not have water, permanent power or sanitation systems in place. Only 13 families have moved in as occupants." He queried, "There is no concept such as partial occupancy according to a high court ruling and how did the BDA give such a certificate in the first place without any inspection?"

With his flat not handed over to him by the promised deadline of December 2017, Stephen filed a case with the court and a compensation of Rs 2.5 crore was ordered. He later approached the RERA tribunal and with interest, the builder owes Stephen Rs 3.3 crore at present, he claims. He has not got any compensation so far.

Total Environment could not be reached for comment.

AIDYO seeks rollback of Agnipath scheme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the All India Democratic Youth Organisation (AIDYO) staged a protest on Wednesday demanding that the central government not go ahead with the Agnipath scheme, fill up vacant posts in government sector, stop contractual jobs and provide permanent jobs.

Krishna, state vice-president, AIDYO, said the announcement of two recruitment drives by the central government are attempts to deceive millions of unemployed youth in the country.

District secretary Jayanna said more than 80 per cent of youth don't find jobs according to their qualifications. Most of them are working on contract jobs, with constant fear of losing their livelihood. The only few permanent posts available are up for grabs for those with money and political influence, he said.

June 22: BBMP concedes that property does not belong to it and asks Wakf board to apply for khatha

Chairman, Karnataka Wakf Board, Shaafi Shahadi, welcomed the development, saying, "BBMP Commissioner has asked Wakf board to submit the records and apply for khatha. We already applied for it."

Garbage issue to hit state as pourakarmikas plan indefinite strike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE solid waste management issue in the state is set to resurface as different organisations representing the conservancy workers have called for a statewide indefinite agitation demanding regularisation of their service.

All India Central Council of Trade Union (AICCTU), Karnataka chapter, general secretary PP Appanna said in 2018, the state government passed an order for direct payment and also direct appointment of pourakarmikas at various nagar sabhas, pattana panchayats and mahanagara palike limits, but they have not been implemented. "We will launch an indefinite strike from July 1 demanding regularization of service of loaders, cleaners and drivers engaged in garbage cleaning. To give more update and information of the protest, there will be a press meet in Bengaluru in which members from other organisations will also join," said Appanna.

M Nirmala, president of the BBMP Pourakarmikas Association from AICCTU, said, in the BBMP alone, there are 18,000 such workers who should be granted permanent status as they are involved in keeping the city clean. A representation was given to the BBMP several times and now an indefinite protest will be launched.

BBMP's Solid Waste Management Commissioner Harish Kumar said since there is one weeks time, efforts will be made to speak to the them and look into their issues. "If at all there is a strike, there is always a Plan B."

23rd June : The Moon is in an excitable zone – in the 'tropical' zodiac. 'The what?', I hear you ask! Well, as it happens there are different zodiacs, some based on the seasons, others the stars. A zodiac doesn't even have to be in the sky! Some of my colleagues have actually identified terrestrial zodiacs which they claim are based in the landscape at some of the world's great sacred sites.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The atmosphere remains businesslike, if anything even more so than yesterday, just as long as you don't get confused over matters of principle. You will have little choice but to accept that authority must be respected and tradition observed. Within this conservative context you may still maintain adventurous goals.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You still seem to be caught up in conflicting circumstances. A financial irritation refuses to go away but, if you can possibly focus on higher things, you will achieve deep satisfaction and realise that ultimately spiritual growth is more important than money.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Your deeply-held personal beliefs are about to be challenged, but you probably know that it takes a lot to make you change your mind. However, if you decide to be more flexible than usual, you could succeed where last time you failed and attract people who once ignored you.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You're raring to go, convinced that you've got it right, and if you haven't already got the bit between your teeth, you soon will. The trouble is, though, that while there are pressures driving you to be busier than usual, you find it hard to pin down exactly what needs doing.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
How far can you go? That is the question of the moment. Perhaps another way to put it might be - how big a risk are you prepared to take? You're in a gambling mood and this, combined with a note of realism, suggests that you could come out on top.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Time marches on, and family and domestic affairs are now dominant. The entire web of relationships with everyone you've known since birth will begin to impinge on your consciousness, colouring the way you express your emotions and arrange your private affairs.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You're broadening your horizons, which is definitely a good thing. But just a word to those of you planning adventurous activities such as overseas journeys and explorations: delays are due to continue for another six weeks but are not insurmountable. All of you should take it slowly and give yourselves plenty of time.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You've got to get your proper priorities sorted out. Extravagant commitments are one thing, businesslike discussions another. Family members, people you live with and anyone with whom you're emotionally involved, will need to know your intentions.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may have been caught up short, perhaps by realising just how much you have taken on. Actually, about a third of the members of your sign have a deep and highly impressive practical streak which most astrologers ignore. So, you should now be on safe ground.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Try not to take major decisions on the basis of too hopeful a picture of things to come. Instinctively you're on the right track but, as soon as you stop to think, you may lose the thread. There is every chance of a major offer, but it could have a surprising twist in its tail.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You won't be prepared to give anything away today, no doubt for your own very good reasons. The one central problem seems to be an uncharacteristic lack of confidence, but it should pass quite quickly. Major material pressures will likewise be temporary.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Difficult personal or romantic issues are your bread and butter. Where would you be without emotional excitement? However, you must avoid dumping your feelings on colleagues or relatives, otherwise you'll get the wrong end of the stick and they'll get the hump.

Man murders wife, tries to kill daughter

ENS @ Bengaluru

A man, who allegedly murdered his wife and tried to kill his 14-year-old daughter, alerted the police about the incident himself and surrendered. The incident took place at Mathikere in the early hours of Wednesday.

The deceased has been identified as Anasuya (42) while her husband Danendra Reddy (49) has been arrested. Their daughter, a Class 9 student, is undergoing treatment at a hospital.

The police said both the couple was tailors. Reddy had reportedly taken lakhs of rupees as loan but had not repaid them. This led to frequent fights between him and his wife. "In the early hours of Wednesday, he murdered his wife by slitting her throat when she was asleep and also stabbed his daughter in the neck. However, he was disturbed by his own act and could not kill her. Seeing his daughter, he changed the decision of taking his life. He himself called the emergency number and informed the police about the incident," the police said.

Workers clear the uprooted tree and the collapsed wall on Wednesday

Wall collapses in IISc campus, kills worker

Tree falls on wall resulting in crash; ₹5 lakh aid to family

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ANOTHER rain-related incident claimed a life in Bengaluru on Wednesday when a construction labourer working on a drain died after a compound wall fell on him at the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) campus.

The incident took place when a huge tree fell on the compound wall following which the wall collapsed. The deceased has been identified as Vasanth, 30, who hails from Anekal. Three workers were engaged in a storm water drain work at a layout adjoining IISc. While Vasanth died, the other two sustained superficial injuries.

The victim's body was shifted to MS Ramaiah Medical College Hospital for autopsy. Yeshwanthpur police said the incident occurred around 5.45 am and a case of unnatural death has been registered.

The incident led to a traffic jam on the road leading to Yeshwanthpur and surrounding areas in the morning hours as the debris and the uprooted tree had spilled on to the road.

Meanwhile, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Commissioner Tushar Girinath has announced Rs 5 lakh compensation to the family of the deceased.

In the last one week, three incidents of deaths due to rains have been reported from the city.

On Friday midnight, Mithun, 28, was washed away in a storm water drain at Gayatri Layout in KR Puram limits and Muniyamma, 62, died after an apartment complex compound wall collapsed on the asbestos sheet of her home.

Overstaying Mali national caught at KIA, to be deported

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A national from Mali, who was found loitering in the forecourt of the Kempegowda International Airport on Wednesday morning, was questioned by the Central Industrial Security Force (CISF). It came to light that Mohammad Tarick Ibrahim had been overstaying in Bengaluru since 2017. Immigration authorities were on the look out for him for long.

According to sources, Ibrahim was questioned after his movements, monitored on CCTV cameras, were found to be suspicious. "He claimed that he had come to the airport to receive his friend's relatives from Oman. But when asked to prove his identity, he failed to produce any valid document and showed a soft copy of his passport received from a friend through WhatsApp. It had expired on November 21, 2020. Ibrahim had also been overstaying here since 2017 following the expiry of his visa," the source added.

Ibrahim was handed over to immigration department and will be deported to Mali at the earliest, the source added.

THE CBI in its FIR (RC0032022A0037), dated June 19 has registered a case against the accused including some unknown officers of CDSCO under Sections 7, 7A and 8 of the Prevention of Corruption (PC) Act and 120B, 468 and 471 of the Indian Penal Code amounting to criminal conspiracy, cheating, cheating for the purpose of cheating, using as genuine a forged document for obtaining undue advantage, taking undue advantage to influence a public servant by corrupt or illegal means and offence related to bribing of public servants.

According to the CBI, a case was registered against Reddy and others including Dua, Sethi, Praveen Kumar, Animesh Kumar and others for "allegedly trying to exert undue influence on officers of CDSCO under Directorate General of Health Services, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare to waive the Phase III trial of 'Insulin Aspart' Injection. The accused had allegedly agreed to pay bribe amount of Rs 9 lakh to Reddy for favourably processing the said three files related to Biocon Biologics and also for favourably recommending the file of 'Insulin Aspart' injection to the Subject Expert Committee (SEC) meeting on May 18," the CBI stated.

"Reddy had attended the SEC meeting and had supported for waiver of Phase III clinical trial for the 'Insulin Aspart Injection' drug of Biocon Biologics. He manipulated the minutes of the meeting of SEC by changing the word "Data" to "Protocol" in the recommendations and thereby causing substantial wrongful gain to Biocon Biologics Limited, Bangalore," the CBI has stated in the FIR.

The agency conducted searches at 11 places located at Delhi, Noida, Gurugram, Patna and Bengaluru which "led to recovery of incriminating documents/articles," the CBI stated.

AHEAD OF PRESIDENTIAL POLLS, BOMMAI LEAVES FOR NEW DELHI

Speculation over CM's visit, but party sources rule out cabinet rejig, or change in guard

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai will embark on a two-day visit to the national capital on Thursday -- the second in a week -- but this visit comes after Prime Minister Narendra Modi gave him a public pat on the back, and stated that development work in Karnataka will continue under his leadership. Bommai will leave for New Delhi on Thursday afternoon and return on Friday, after meeting Central ministers, including Home Minister Amit Shah and party National President J P Nadda.

According to sources, he has been called by the party high command to discuss certain state issues, and also to be one of the proposers for the NDA's presidential candidate Draupadi Murmu, who will be filing her nomination papers at 11am Friday. Chief ministers of all BJP-ruled states and Union ministers have been called by the high command to be present, they added.

After the public rally at Kommaghatta in Bengaluru on Monday, Bommai, who had travelled with Modi to Mysuru on his chopper, reportedly briefed him about his budgetary schemes and their implementation, especially the 'Raitha Vidhyanidhi' scholarship introduced for children of farmers and its impact, a source informed TNIE. However, another source said Modi spoke to Bommai personally on other issues as well.

Despite a positive outlook this time, there is again speculation over Bommai's visit to New Delhi, and whether there will be a cabinet rejig or major changes in the government. Party sources have categorically denied any change, either in leadership or the government, in the near future. Ever since he assumed office on July 28, 2021, Bommai has visited Delhi around 10 times.

In this scenario, the timing of Union Minister of State for Agriculture Shobha Karandlaje's visit to New Delhi has given rise to rumours of a change in guard. According to a source, she has also been called to Delhi.

Former chief minister Jagadish Shettar, who allegedly maintained a distance from Bommai ever since he became chief minister, is also likely to visit the national capital to lobby for a good post ahead of the 2023 assembly polls, sources said.

However, with the Presidential elections slated for July 18, and swift political developments unfolding in Maharashtra, immediate changes are unlikely, according to a BJP source.

Panchamasalis call off stir outside CM's residence

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the Panchamasali community, who had threatened to protest outside the residence of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in Shiggaon, Haveri district, on June 27, over providing reservation for them, have called off the agitation. The government has sought two months time to make its stand clear on the issue. CM Bommai and Minister CC Patil held a meeting with the seer and others who have been spearheading the movement in Bengaluru on Wednesday

The government assured the Panchamasalis that it would consider their demand seriously. Seer Jaya Mrutyunjaya Swamiji said, "If 2A reservation is not given, I will go on a satyagraha outside the CM's house.''

The seer was joined by MLA and former union minister Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, president of the Panchamsali movement Vijayanand Kashappanavar, MLAs Siddu Savadi and Aravind Bellad, former MLA Vinay Kulkarni, and others.

The satyagraha was scheduled to be held on June 27 has been deferred to August 22.

After the meeting, the seers and others gathered at the residence of Minister CC Patil in Bengaluru and decided to defer the agitation by two months.

CM to write to Gowda on textbook revision

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai will write a detailed letter to former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda, answering all the questions he has raised in his letter on textbook revision, Minister for Primary and Secondary Education BC Nagesh said.

"Following H D Deve Gowda's letter on revision of textbooks by the committee led by Rohit Chakrathirtha, Chief Minister Bommai held a meeting with me on Wednesday evening and sought a detailed explanation from the education department on Gowda's letter and its content," he said. "The CM has sought certain clarifications. We will be providing the details on Thursday," he said.

Asked about Gowda's demand to drop the entire textbook revision, instead of giving a corrigendum or re-revising parts of textbooks, he said the CM will answer Gowda's letter in detail. "It is already clear that revision of textbooks will not be dropped. After meeting the CM on textbook revision on June 3, those protesting said they are open for revision of any part of the textbooks," Nagesh said.

Asked about allegations that the government has not responded to letters of Dalit organisations and litterateurs, but is responding to Vokkaliga leader H D Deve Gowda for political reasons, Nagesh said, "We have already answered every one. The media statement by CM Bommai after the June 3 meeting has clear answers."

Nagesh said that 92 per cent of the textbooks are already printed, and 79 per cent have reached schools. Re-revision of content on Ambedkar and Basavanna will be done soon, he said.

N K'taka will be a state after 2024 LS polls: Katti

PM will himself take an initiative on this issue. Three new states will be carved out of Maharashtra, four in Uttar Pradesh and two in Karnataka

Umesh Katti, minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

CIVIL Supplies Minister Umesh Katti has once again said that North Karnataka will become a separate state after the next Lok Sabha elections. He went on to add that a total of 50 new states will eventually come up in the country.

While addressing advocates during his visit to Belagavi Bar Association on Wednesday, Katti said, "A debate is trending on social media that over 50 new states will be formed in the country after the next Lok Sabha polls. So, it is for sure that North Karnataka will also become a separate state. PM Narendra Modi will himself take an initiative on this issue. Three new states will be carved out from Maharashtra, four in Uttar Pradesh and two in Karnataka.''

Justifying his statement, he said, "There is no proper water supply in Bengaluru city and people often get stranded in traffic jams. It takes at least one hour to travel a distance of 10 km in the state capital. It takes one-and-a-half hours for me to reach Vidhana Soudha from my house in Bengaluru city. I could reach the same distance by walking earlier"

"There are many IT/BT companies in Bengaluru city and it is impossible for new IT/BT companies to establish their base in the capital city anymore. A large number of youth from North Karnataka worked in these companies in Bengaluru. It is high time for IT companies to think beyond Bengaluru and set up their units in North Karnataka, which has a huge potential,'' he said.

Karnataka Congress to conduct organisational polls after a decade

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER a gap of 10 years, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) has finally decided to hold organisational polls to elect its office-bearers at block and district levels. The process is likely to commence before August.

Recently, the Congress appointed 179 office-bearers, including 49 vice- presidents. According to sources, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee president DK Shivakumar is keen on conducting polls at micro-level to elect office-bearers at block and district units. There are 2-3 blocks in each Assembly constituency and each block will have 100-150 booths.

Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee now has close to 80 lakh members who will elect the office-bearers at booth level. They in turn will elect the block office-bearers and the block office-bearers will elect the District Congress Committee (DCC) office-bearers. Each booth/block/DCC will have a president, vice-president, general secretary, secretary, treasurer and other executive committee members.

"Those who want to contest these elections first have to be primary members of the party for which they have to pay Rs 100. Once they become a primary member, they can contest for office-bearers post," a party functionary said.

Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee working president Saleem Ahmed told The New Indian Express that the KPCC organised its membership drive after a gap of nearly seven years. "We are strengthening our party at booth level," he said.

Though state Congress president DK Shivakumar wants to hold these polls, not many local leaders, including MLAs, are happy with this as they want to appoint block and district office-bearers of their choice ahead of the 2023 Assembly polls.

"All these years, office-bearers were elected unanimously without polls. MLAs would lobby for their aide and get them appointed as office-bearers," sources in the Congress added.

JDS expels 2 MLAs for cross-voting in RS polls

BENGALURU: The JDS on Wednesday expelled two of its MLAs — SR Srinivas of Gubbi and K Srinivasa Gowda of Kolar — from the primary membership of the party for violating the party whip in the recent Rajya Sabha elections. The JDS core committee, which met under the leadership of party supremo HD Deve Gowda, former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy and state JDS president CM Ibrahim, decided to expel the two MLAs on charges of cross-voting. The party also decided to approach the Assembly Speaker with a petition to disqualify the MLAs from the Assembly membership under the Anti-Defection Law.

Ramesh Jarkiholi meets Fadnavis amid Maha crisis

BELAGAVI: Amid the political turmoil in Maharashtra following a rebellion by a section of MLAs from the ruling coalition, former Karnataka minister Ramesh Jarkiholi met former Maharashtra CM Devendra Fadnavis and held discussions with him on the volatile political situation. His meeting with Fadnavis assumes significance as the two were said to be instrumental in carrying out Operation Lotus successfully in Mumbai to ensure the defection of 17 MLAs to the BJP to help the latter form a government in Karnataka. The BJP could make use of Jarkiholi's links with several MLAs from the Shiv Sena and Congress in the border districts of Maharashtra if the situation demands given the current political situation. It may be noted that Fadnavis had met the team of Karnataka MLAs headed by Jarkiholi who were holed up in a hotel in Mumbai in 2018 before the Congress-JSD coalition government collapse in the state.

Financial aid scheme for women SHGs on October 2

BENGALURU: CM Basavaraj Bommai said on Wednesday that the state government will launch a financial assistance scheme for Stree Shakthi Sanghas on Gandhi Jayanthi (October 2) this year. He said the government wants to promote Sthree Shakthi products in international markets as it will boost the state's economy. Speaking after inaugurating a convention of state-level voluntary service organisations, Bommai said for the first time a grant of Rs 1.5 lakh has been announced in the state budget for each Stree Shakthi Sangha across the state. This will enable them to contribute to the state's GDP, he said "The scheme will be linked to a bank to meet their needs of financial services, purchase of necessary equipment, improving market access for their products. Efforts are also being made to link them to online marketing platforms like Amazon to boost marketing opportunities for their products," he said.

Agniveers as PE teachers in residential schools?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

KARNATAKA State Backward Classes and Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary on Wednesday said that his department plans to accommodate 'Agniveers' while filling the post of physical education teachers-cum-wardens in residential schools run by the department in Karnataka.

Speaking to reporters in Udupi on Wednesday, the minister said that he is contemplating a scheme to reserve 75 per cent of the physical education teacher vacancies in 826 residential schools for 'Agniveers'. Poojary said that he will discuss the plan with the officials concerned to understand how it can be implemented.

The minister informed that the backward classes welfare department will open three army selection training schools in Dakshina Kannada, Udupi and Uttara Kannada this month and priority will be given to get the trainees selected as 'Agniveers'.

Regarding Pranavananda Swami, national president of Arya Ediga Kendra Samiti, demanding that the State Government lift ban on toddy tapping and sales in parts of Kalyana Karnataka region, the minister, who also hails from a community whose family occupation used to predominantly be toddy- tapping decades ago, said that some of members from his own community are questioning the need to fall back to the old ways. "Many from my community argue that this is the time when education should be given priority. Hence I have requested Pranavananda Swami to hold a meeting with the leaders from the community,'' he said.

Agnipath an RSS agenda: HDK

It is an idea of the RSS. The Union Government must withdraw the scheme immediately to protect the interests of the youth of the country

HD Kumaraswamy, senior JDS leader and former chief minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hassan

JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy on Wednesday said that the Union Government brought in the Agnipath scheme following the directives of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS).

The former CM demanded that the Centre withdraw the recruitment scheme in the interests of the youth. He also suspected the scheme is being implemented for the RSS to spread its activities in the armed forces.

He said that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai was controlled by the RSS and working as per the directives of Keshava Krupa, the sangh's office.

He also condemned the harassment meted out to Congress MP Rahul Gandhi through continuous questioning by the ED in the National Herald case.

The former CM also took a dig at PM Narendra Modi saying the latter did not visit Karnataka during the Covid-19 second wave, but visited the state to perform yoga. "He will visit the state almost every month now till the 2023 Assembly polls," Kumaraswamy quipped.

SM Krishna bats for new scheme

MYSURU: Senior BJP leader SM Krishna on Wednesday gave his support to the Agnipath scheme saying a few were opposing it for no reason. The former CM was speaking after inaugurating SM Shankar trust at Somanahalli in Maddur on Wednesday. He said that in several developed countries, including the US and the UK, it is mandatory for the youth to study military education for two years. "It is good that the Union Government has come out with a novel project to recruit youths under the Agnipath scheme," he added. He further clarified that Agniveers will have ample opportunities to get employed in the armed forces, PSUs, and government and private sectors. "The scheme should not be politicised and should be seen in the interest of the development of the country," he said. Krishna also ruled out his brother's son's entry into politics or contesting from the Maddur assembly constituency. He said that SM Shankar's son Gurucharan is serving the people in the taluk and was happy with his approach and accessibility to the public.

AN ARDENT devotee of Lord Sree Krishna of Guruvayur, C R Lejumol is not scared of the temple's elephants. Born into a family of mahouts, she has been obsessed with elephants and loved to feed them. Lejumol, who took charge of Guruvayur temple's Punnathur Kotta on Wednesday, says it is a blessing from the Lord. She is the first woman manager in the 47-year history of the elephant camp.

Punnathur Kotta houses 44 elephants, which have been donated by devotees at different periods of time. Lejumol will be in charge of the elephants's upkeep. The Punnathur Kotta was a fort owned by a local ruler, which was purchased by the Guruvayur Devaswom in 1975 to keep the temple elephants. The camp is a sprawling green area spread across 10 acres. "She will have to coordinate the 150 staffers including the mahouts and ensure the wellbeing of elephants," said temple administrator K P Vinayan.

Lejumol's father Ravindran Nair and father-in-law Sankara Narayanan had retired after years of service as mahouts. Her husband Prasad was also a mahout.

Lejumol, who had joined the Guruvayur Devaswom as a lower division clerk in 1996, was an assistant manager in the works department.

Madras HC refuses to stay General Council meeting; OPS may be removed as coordinator

R SIVAKUMAR AND T MURUGANANDHAM @Chennai

THE Madras High Court late on Wednesday refused to stay the AIADMK General Council (GC) meeting scheduled to be held in Chennai on Thursday, clearing the way for former Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami to take over the reins of the AIADMK as its single leader, and possible ouster of O Pannerselvam from the post of party coordinator.

The court's observation that it cannot stop a party from amending its bylaws has come as a shot in the arm for the Palaniswami camp as it seeks to bring in changes in AIADMK bylaws to anoint Palaniswami as its single leader, following a majority support from the party office-bearers.

AIADMK partymen arrive at the Jayalalithaa memorial in Chennai on Wednesday | P JAWAHAR

It's not clear whether O Panneerselvam and a few of his supporters, including R Vaithilingam, JCD Prabhakar and Manoj Pandian, will attend the council meeting. Earlier in the day, in another setback to Panneerselvam, Avadi Police Commissioner declined to entertain a petition from OPS asking police to deny permission to the GC meeting.

Justice Krishnan Ramasamy in his verdict said the court cannot prejudge what could transpire at the GC meeting and refused to interfere with the internal affairs of amending rules, regulations or bylaws of the party. Declining to pass any interim order, the judge said it is well settled that in matters concerning internal issues of an association or a party, courts won't normally interfere, and would leave it to the members of these entities to pass resolutions or frame bylaws, rules or regulations for their better administration.

The judge said any decision of the members of the general council will be their collective wisdom and court cannot insist the members to act in a particular manner. The court cannot interfere with the process of conducting the general council meeting, the judge said.

Earlier, the packed court hall witnessed heated arguments from a battery of senior counsels including G Rajagopal, PS Raman and NGR Prasad for petitioners including Ramkumar Adityan, PH Arvindh Pandian for AIADMK coordinator O Panneerselvam, and Vijay Narayan and GR Rajagopal for joint coordinator Edappadi K Palaniswami.

Pesky calls: Panel fines Airtel, BSNL

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

IN THE HC

HOLDING that not preventing unsolicited and pesky calls and SMSes to mobile numbers of consumers, in spite of activation of 'Do Not Disturb' (DND) amounts to deficiency of service, the district consumer commission directed Bharti Airtel Limited and Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) to jointly pay Rs 25,000 towards compensation, along with 6 per cent interest per annum, and Rs 5,000 towards cost of litigation to the complainants.

Allowing partly the complaint filed by Meeta Jain and her husband Jitendra Jain, who fought the legal battle without engaging a lawyer, the Bangalore Urban Second Additional District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission passed the order.

The Commission, comprising president M Shobha, members B Devaraju and V Anuradha, observed that Airtel and BSNL have failed to address grievances raised by the complainants despite several reminders, with documentary proof of unsolicited, pesky calls, and messages generated even after activation of DND. The complainants established that both Airtel and BSNL are liable for deficiency of service, the Commission added.

The complainants had sought Rs 1 crore as compensation, refund of all bills with penal interest, legal expenditure for unethical trade practice, and prolonged mental and physical harassment, the Commission said. "In our considered view, the compensation sought by the complainants is exorbitant and excessive. We deem fit that a sum of Rs 25,000 compensation will suffice for the relief sought by the complainants, which they are jointly entitled to, by Airtel and BSNL, along with 6 per cent interest per annum from the date of complaint lodged till payment is made, and Rs 5,000 as litigation expenses to the complainants," the Commission said.

Meeta Jain had taken an Airtel connection whereas Jitendra Jain was using BSNL. In spite of registering for DND, they received many unsolicited calls and messages, in clear violation of Telecom Regulatory Authority of India regulations, they claimed.

They also contended that the pesky texts are routed from across India, for which Airtel and BSNL are making profit from revenues due to packs marketed by them.

Hyd gang rape case: Bail pleas of 4 rejected

HYDERABAD: The bail pleas of four of the six accused in the sensational Jubilee Hills gang rape case were on Wednesday turned down by two different courts in the city, while orders regarding the bail plea of one of the two remaining accused was posted for Thursday. Saduddin Malik, the only accused who is above 18 years of age, did not move a bail plea.

According to sources, the investigative agency opposed granting bail to the accused on stating that they are politically influential and can potentially influence the investigation. Agreeing with this contention, the court rejected the appeal of the accused. ENS

The newly-built bridge at Niduvale in Kalasa taluk which caved in

Bridge caves in a week after inauguration

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chikkamagaluru

IN Malnad region of Chikkamagaluru district, old bridges and roads are very often washed away following copious rains during the monsoon season. However, here is an instance of a new bridge collapsing within a week after it was declared open to the public.

A culvert near Niduvale under Samse Gram Panchayat limits in Kalasa taluk has crumbled following rain. The bridge was built to provide connectivity to the surrounding villages such as Chowdibilal, Kattemane, Konemane and Eechaluhole as the old bridge was washed away in the torrential rain last year.

As there was no other approach or alternative road for the people of this region, the new bridge was built at a cost of Rs 30 lakh. A portion of the bridge caved in when a pick-up van was passing on it amid small showers on Tuesday, leaving the van stuck in the debris. Two occupants of the van escaped unhurt. Locals vented their ire over the poor quality of work carried out by the engineer and the contractor and have appealed to the authorities to take action against them.

AS RUPEE FALLS, HOW LONG CAN RBI KEEP ON DEFENDING IT?

The Indian currency is facing one of the toughest fights of its life. In the crosshairs of a triple-barrelled gun of capital outflows, higher crude oil prices and widening Current Account Deficit (CAD), the domestic unit yet again hit a new low of 78.29 against the US dollar on Wednesday. So far this year, the rupee has fallen about 5%, while the dollar index—pegged to a basket of six currencies—has shot up 10%. Attracted by higher interest rates in the US, investors are selling rupee-based investments in favour of the greenback, weakening the Indian currency. The RBI believes there is a 5% chance that portfolio outflows could be 3.2% of GDP or $100.6 billion a year, which incidentally is a similar amount of forex accumulation at $105 billion in FY21. Till date, FPIs have sold $29 billion worth assets in 2022 and if the trend continues, it will be troublesome.

In contrast, the US dollar index hit a two-decade high of 104.507 and continues to gain, but every such increase weakens not just the rupee but almost every other currency, in any case under pressure from soaring energy prices. The worst hit among them is the Japanese yen that sunk to a 24-year low against the dollar. Likewise, the Korean won, Turkish lira and even the Chinese yuan were not spared. In May, the rupee depreciated by 1.5%, but as per the RBI, the depreciation was rather modest.

While the rupee is one of the worst-performing Asian currencies in nominal terms—losing 4% against the dollar since the start of the Russia-Ukraine crisis—we were better off than others like the Bangladeshi taka that fell 8.2% since the crisis, or the Chinese yuan and the South African rand that depreciated 5.7% and 5%, respectively. On its part, the RBI is defending the rupee, selling forex reserves, sucking out rupee liquidity and helping contain imported inflation for now, but this cannot go on for long as it affects our competitiveness. Currency management is a tricky issue and the RBI must strike a balance.

T'GANA STUDENTS SHOW HOW A PROTEST IS DONE

Students of the Rajiv Gandhi University of Knowledge Technologies (RGUKT), known as IIIT-Basara, in Telangana's Nirmal district, have proved that there is no need to resort to violence to make the government fall in line. After a week of sustained agitation despite torrential rain one day and scorching sun on the other, the government blinked, conceding all their 12 demands. They included the most basic, like a full-time Vice-Chancellor, better living conditions on the campus and decent infrastructure for studies. The government was initially adamant. Education Minister P Sabitha Indra Reddy even termed the demands "silly". The administration used all the tricks in the book to suppress the agitation, like evicting the students from the campus, not allowing their parents inside, and cutting off power and water supply.

After the state's bifurcation in 2014, IIIT-Basara remained no one's baby. As a result, its National Assessment and Accreditation Council ranking went down to a 'C', the lowest among all the 15 universities in the state. Hardly any campus recruitment takes place there anymore. It was conceived in 2008 with the intention of taking engineering education closer to students from rural areas. Prof D Raj Reddy of Carnegie Mellon University was appointed as its first Chancellor and Prof V R Rajkumar was its first Vice-Chancellor. However, there is no Chancellor or full-time V-C at present. Rahul Bojja, who is a secretary in the Chief Minister's Office, is holding additional charge as V-C for the last two years.

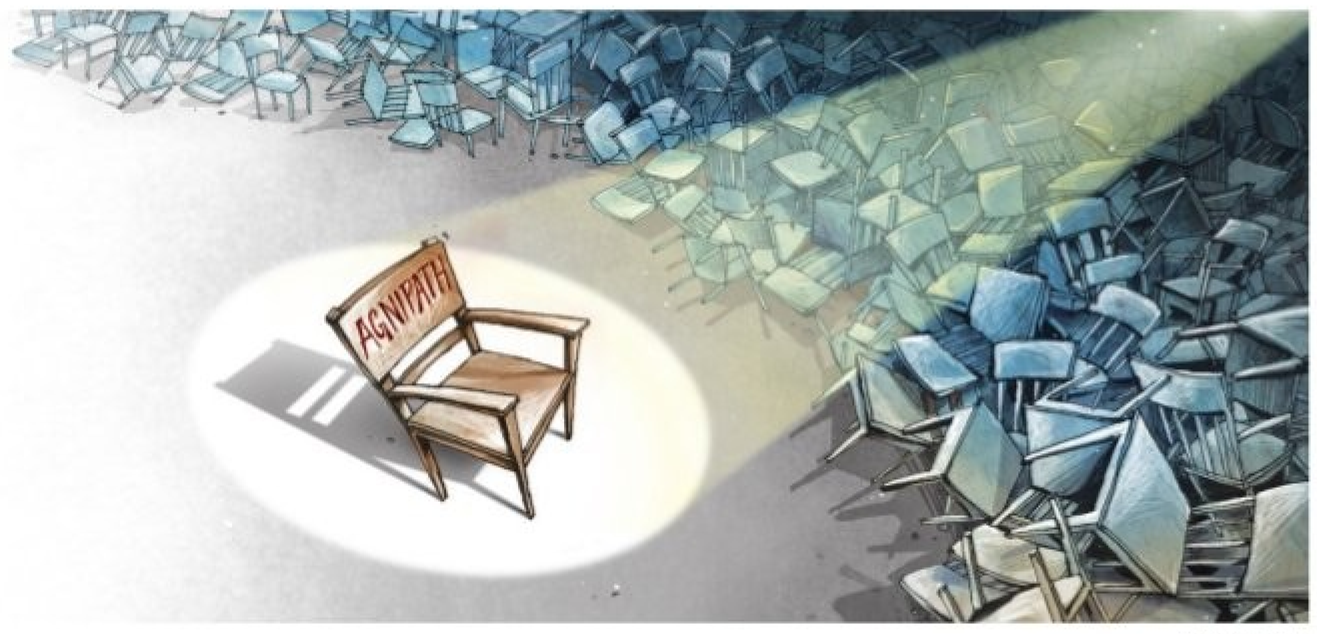
There is no justification for the inordinate delay in the appointment of a full-time VC and director for the university. Even before the NAAC lowered the ranking, it reportedly advised the appointment of a full-time V-C but the counsel fell on deaf ears. The proposal to make the chief minister the Chancellor for all universities by stripping the Governor of the responsibility, a la West Bengal, would not have come in the way of the appointments. Whatever the reason, students should not suffer. The students deserve praise for their victory.

Reduction in government employment is an essential component of the neoliberal fiscal strategy. Such an agitation has been in the making for some time now

AGNIPATH AND THE REVOLT OF THE UNEMPLOYED

T M THOMAS ISAAC

Former Finance Minister of Kerala



SOUMYADIP SINHA

The world today is facing the twin challenges of inflation and unemployment. Governments have chosen to tame inflation and ignore growth and unemployment. The assumption is that the public reaction to inflation would be sharp while it would be unexpectedly tolerant of unemployment. Besides, inflation is anathema for finance capital, and it does not care about unemployment. However, India has reached a situation where policymakers can no longer take unemployment for granted. That is the message of the Agnipath agitation.

While inflation has been in the national headlines and focus of public action for some time, suddenly, like a bolt from the blue, a virtual revolt of the unemployed has engulfed the country. What is striking is its spontaneity and ferocity. It is as if their pent-up anger and frustration are erupting at once. Such an agitation has been in the making for some time now. Last January, Bihar had witnessed a similar protest by aspirants for railway jobs. Written exams for less than 40,000 vacancies had attracted more than a crore youth. Their suspicions of manipulations in the exam and announcement of a second exam to cull out the list to a manageable proportion drew protests leading to violence and arson.

The same Bihar has been the epicentre of the latest round of countrywide protests. If one maps the centres of agitation in the first two days of protests, one can see that these precisely are regions well known for high unemployment and out-migration. Interestingly, they are also areas of BJP influence, and the protests cannot be accused of being politically motivated.

The unemployment rate in the country is as high as 7.4% according to CMIE data. Normally, open unemployment in India is at a low level, between 2–3%, because of the disguised unemployment phenomenon. The unemployed usually get accommodated in the informal sectors with fewer days of work. However, during the last two decades, we have been witnessing a virtual jobless growth. Between 2009–10 and 2017–18, the job generation was as low as 0.03% per annum. To make matters worse, the small-scale sectors that account for the bulk of the new jobs were severely affected by demonetisation and GST introduction. This is the background of ballooning unemployment.

It is the youth who bear the brunt of rising unemployment. To cite an extreme case, in Bihar with 17.7% unemployment, joblessness among the youth in the 15–19 age group is 73% and that in the 19–24 cohort is 38%. Because of the discouraging effect, many drop out of the labour force. The labour participation rate in Bihar is only 31% of the age group 16–60. India's labour force participation rate has declined from 47% in 2016 to 40% in 2021. This is much lower than most countries in the world where the participation rate would be around 60%. Instead of reaping a demographic dividend from a young workforce, the economy is burdened by the rising non-working population.

In this backdrop, the youth are agitated about the planned reduction of public sector employment, which traditionally played the leading role in organised employment. In 2014, there were 4.2 lakh approved posts lying vacant. By March 2020, this increased to nine lakh. Now two years later, in 2022, the number of vacancies must surely be above 11 lakh. The total number of approved posts in the Central government is 40 lakh, of which around one-fourth is lying vacant. This is what the ideal of the prime minister, "minimum government and maximum governance" is turning out to be.

Curiously, Agnipath and the PM's scheme for one million jobs in one-and-a-half years were announced on the same day. If the government was sincere about the latter, the first step would have been to fill up the existing vacancies. Instead we have Agnipath, a scheme for further reducing the existing posts in the Armed Forces

Reduction in government employment is an essential component of the neoliberal fiscal strategy. The revenue deficit of GoI in 2021–22 was 4.37%. Though the Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act ordains that it should be reduced to zero, the Union government has never been able to reach the target. With a stagnant tax/GDP ratio and tax concessions to corporates, revenue expenditure reduction is the only course of action open to the government. Of the various components of revenue expenditure, reduction in salaries and pensions becomes an attractive choice. In 2021-22, the salaries and pensions in Kerala, for example, constituted 60.43% of the revenue expenditure. It can be reduced only through a reduction in the number of employees, even at the cost of governance.

There are 1.3 lakh vacancies in the Armed Forces. After a gap of two years, the recruitment drive started, lakhs of youth completed physical tests and the eligible are awaiting written tests. It was at this juncture that the Agnipath scheme—of temporary recruitment in the Armed Forces for four years, from whom 25% would be selected for permanent tenure—was announced.

What is the implication of the new system for the Armed Forces? In a normal year, around 60,000 personnel retire. Not even the full current vacancies, let alone the backlog, is going to be filled up, given that only 46,000 Agniveers are to be recruited every year. Of them, only 12,000 will be absorbed into the Armed Forces. As a result, the strength of the Forces would steadily decline to around 75% of the present level by 2030. This sinister scheme was paraded as a great employment programme.

Curiously, Agnipath and the prime minister's scheme for one million jobs in one and half years were announced on the same day. If the government was sincere about the latter, the first step would have been to fill up the existing vacancies. Instead we have Agnipath, a scheme for further reducing the existing posts in the Armed Forces. One wonders if the one-million jobs scheme was only a smokescreen to push through Agnipath.

We have focused on the economics of Agnipath. The adverse impact it can have on the efficiency and quality of the Armed Forces has been raised by retired officers and defence specialists. Allegations have also been made of attempts to politicise the Armed Forces. And there is also the potential danger of mobilisation of trained youth retirees from Agnipath for communal violence and social polarisation. What is the hidden agenda? Or is it simply yet another blunder like demonetisation?

VARIOUS VERSIONS OF RAMAYANA & LAXMANA'S LINE(S)

SRINIVAS SISTLA

Associate Professor, Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam

The idiom Laxmana-rekha, which is linked to the Ramayana, is often quoted across multiple contexts in India. According to popular legend, Laxmana drew a rekha (line) with his arrow on the ground at Panchavati before leaving Sita alone to search for Rama, who had gone out earlier to fetch a golden deer for her. The rekha is viewed symbolically in two ways: less commonly as a protection offered to a woman by man, and more often as the limitations imposed by the latter on the freedom of the former. Marathi poet Padma Gole (1913–1998), for instance, says in a verse, "Laxmana drew but one line in front of Sita… We face Laxmana-rekhas on all sides; they have to be crossed, the Ravanas confronted."

Incidentally, the idiom has not been mentioned in Valmiki Ramayana in Sanskrit, Kamba Ramayana of Kambar (c. 1180–1250) in Tamil, Adhyatma Ramayana of Ezhuthachan (16th century) in Malayalam, and so on. In Valmiki's version and the Adhyatma Ramayana (13th to 15th century) in Sanskrit, Laxmana asks the Vana-devata (forest-divinity) to take care of Sita in his absence. In the Molla Ramayana (c. 1440–1530) of Atukuri Molla in Telugu, Laxmana neither prays to any divinity nor draws a line, but just leaves Panchavati in a hurry to find Rama. Krittivasa Ojha's (15th century) Ramayana in Bengali, however, mentions the Lakshmana-rekha. Ramcharitamanas of Tulasi Das (1532–1623) in Avadhi makes no mention of it in the Aranya Kanda. In the Lanka Kanda, Mandodari rebukes her husband, Ravana, on his boisterous claims of valour and says, "You couldn't even cross a simple line drawn by Rama's younger brother." However, most scholars consider this stanza as a later interpolation. In Odia versions of the epic, before leaving Sita alone in Panchavati, Laxmana draws not just one but three lines, which have been interpreted as a symbolic representation of Brahma, Vishnu and Siva—the Trinity of Hinduism.

Laxmana drawing a single straight line on the ground while Sita is standing in a thatched hut in Panchavati has been shown in many Indian movies and TV serials on the epic in various languages. Movies named after Laxmana-rekha, with contemporary social and melodramatic themes, have also been made in a few languages, including one each in Telugu (1975) and Malayalam (1984). The Telugu version also contains a theme song, which repeatedly mentions the idiom. More recently, a few artists, in India and abroad, have also made temporal 'installations' titled Laxmana-rekha.

The Panchavati episode also figures in many ancient and medieval Indian sculptures and paintings, though to the best of my knowledge, the rekha aspect in the tale has not received any scholarly attention so far. Sri Laxmi Narasimha temple in Korukonda (near Rajamahendravaram in Andhra Pradesh) was built in 1353 CE by a woman named Laxmai Dasi. The hilltop temple contains many relief panels on the Ramayana, in which one shows Laxmana offering his Anjali (salutation) to Rama who is on the other side of a tree, which suggests the forest. Rama's left-hand gestures, in my opinion, indicate that he is enquiring about the well-being of Sita. The next panel shows Sita standing inside a pavilion and offering alms to Ravana, who is standing in the open. An umbrella in his left hand and his overall attire present him as a mendicant, and his right-hand's gesture clearly indicates that he is taking the alms. Sita's stance inside the pavilion also suggests her unwillingness to come out of it. The Laxmana-rekha was, however, not indicated in the composition.

In this context, I would like to draw the readers' attention to a set of 53 Ramayana paintings—now in a museum in Hamburg, Germany—by two painters, Nandigam Nagesam and Kamaroutu Venkatesam, in Rajamahendravaram in 1757. In folio 18, Sita and Ravana appear twice, once on the ground and then on a chariot next to a treetop, i.e., in the sky. Such delineation of the same figures twice or more times within a single pictorial space in visual art is known as 'continuous narration'. Further, the painters have shown not just one but seven circles on the ground behind Sita. Incidentally, the Ranganatha Ramayana (c. 1240) written in Telugu by Gona Buddha Reddy mentions Laxmana drawing seven circles around Panchavati. It appears to me that the seven circles symbolically represent the seven oceans, which according to an age-old Indian tradition, encircle the earth. However, it needs to be mentioned that the painting shows Ravana dragging Sita by hand, which to the best of my knowledge, has not been mentioned in any major version of the . Such a delineation makes it clear that the painters had created their own visual version of the epic without adhering to any one particular textual source.

Prison becomes posh

This is with reference to 7 prison officials transferred for irregularities (June 22). It is utterly shocking to know that jail inmates are able to make such purchases. How did they pilfer groceries from the jail canteen and avail comforts and other amenities? Examples like Sasikala's luxurious jail-stay point to corruption and mockery of the system by jail officials. Transferring these officials is not the solution or the correct punishment for them. There needs to be a proper punishment for their blatant breach of trust.

Welcome selection

The selection of Draupadi Murmu as the NDA's presidential nominee is most welcome. It underlines the resolve and commitment of the ruling combine towards the upliftment of the underprivileged sections of society besides the empowerment of women.

This is with reference to Uddhav faces rebellion from within (June 22). Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray is responsible for the current crisis and Eknath Shinde's rebellion. After the Shiv Sena joined the Maha Vikas Aghadi, it started to hurt Hindu sentiments—this must have angered other MLAs. It also did not help that its relationship with the BJP went sour, because this appears to have helped the NCP and Congress.

Knee-jerk reaction

This is with reference to Kidney transplantation can wait up to 44 hours, charge baseless: Experts (June 22). I think it was a knee-jerk reaction to suspend the two doctors because they delayed the procedure by three hours. It is clear that the death was not due to the delay but because of some other reason. If actions are taken in this manner, doctors will lose their morale and might become wary of performing such surgeries, which is not a good outcome.

Enforce Covid rules

Covid cases are once again rising in all states. In Telangana, however, people do not seem to be complying with mask rules and social distancing. Once again, there is a need to educate people about safety measures through advertisements and posters. A good way for the government to tackle this would be to take the assistance of NGOs.

Murmu as Prez pick to yield poll dividends

Political analysts believe BJP's masterstroke of fielding a tribal candidate may help it fetch extra votes in states

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR

Droupadi Murmu receives greetings at her residence in Mayurbhanj, Odisha | PTI

THE ruling BJP-led NDA has landed the Opposition in a tight spot over the presidential polls by fielding a tribal woman as its candidate.

The choice is bound to fetch an electoral bonanza for the BJP from a thankful tribal population that is 11-crore strong, political analysts feel.

A political analyst told this correspondent: "The BJP will immediately benefit in the five poll-bound states of Gujarat, Karnataka, Chhattisgarh, Rajashthan and Himachal Pradesh. Look how the tribals of Kinnaur in Himachal Pradesh gave a rousing reception to Chief Minister Jairam Thakur the day after Droupadi Murmu's announcement."

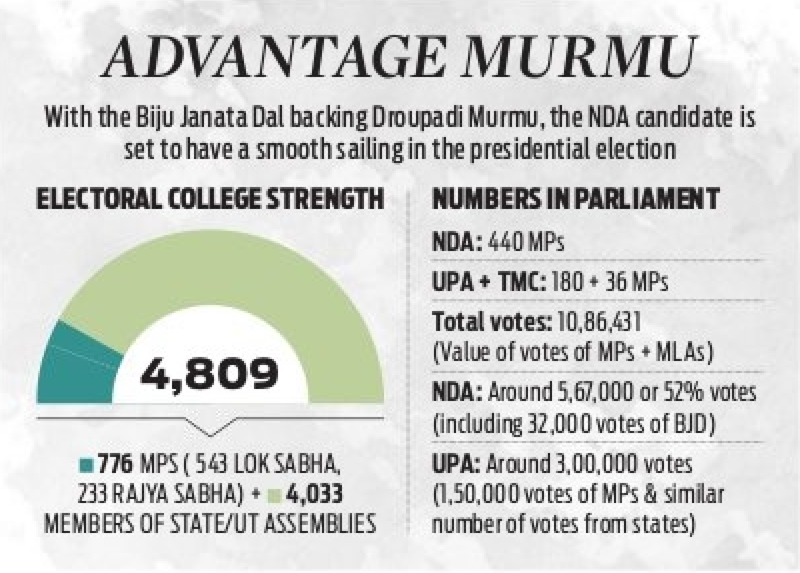
The analyst said this is the second time – the first was the candidature of APJ Abdul Kalam — that the BJP sent a strong message to marginalised communities.

R K Verma, senior political researcher and member of Indian Institute of Public Administration, sees the announcement as politically strategic for the BJP. "The status of the country's indigenous, marginalised tribal community, undoubtedly, stands elevated through Murmu's candidature. The BJP will get an electoral benefit. It may not be a substantial one, but will be noticeable in electoral politics."

A senior analyst in the Capital, PKD Nambiar, feels the Opposition is truly in a fix. "Opposing her candidature will be as good as opposing the tribal people and their cultural values along with women empowerment."

Fellow analyst Manish Jha points out that Gujarat's 15 per cent tribal votes, which decide victory in around 27 assembly seats, may shift from the Opposition this time. "This vote bank is still supposed to be with the Congress party and some regional parties. The BJP can be successful to some extent in making a dent in the 2022 assembly election."

The Opposition's joint candidate Yashwant Sinha, however, did not appear much perturbed by a woman tribal candidate being his rival. Sinha said his contest was not against Droupadi Murmu as such but against the principles of the BJP-led NDA.



ADVANTAGE MURMU

With the Biju Janata Dal backing Droupadi Murmu, the NDA candidate is set to have a smooth sailing in the presidential election

UPA: Around 3,00,000 votes (1,50,000 votes of MPs & similar number of votes from states)

Murmu likely to file nomination tomorrow

The BJP has reportedly started making preparations for a grand nomination ceremony of Droupadi Murmu where almost all senior leaders of BJP and CMs of BJP-ruled states and even allies such as Nitish Kumar are likely to be present. PM Narendra Modi will be the first proposer in the nomination paper, the second being JP Nadda. Although the BJP did not officially inform about the nomination date, sources in the party said it will be on June 24.

Rubber stamp Prez will not work: Sinha

The Opposition candidate, Yashwant Sinha, who held his first campaign strategy meeting on Wednesday, said a "rubber-stamp president" will not work in the country. "The President's post is extremely sensitive and I won't be under pressure from the government," said Sinha, who will file nomination on June 27. "...This is not 'me against her'...this is an ideological contest. We should not have a rubber-stamp President," Sinha said.

Demolition of illegal houses not linked to rioting, UP tells SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Lucknow

THE Uttar Pradesh government has told the Supreme Court that the demolition of illegal structures in Kanpur and Prayagraj were carried out by local municipal bodies as per law and not to punish the accused involved in the violent protests over remarks on Prophet Mohammed.

In an affidavit submitted in response to the petition filed by the Jamiat Ulema-I-Hind, the state government said the demolitions referred were carried out by "local development authority, which are statutory autonomous bodies, independent of state administration, as per law, as part of their routine effort against unauthorised/illegal constructions and encroachments, in accordance with the UP Urban Planning and Development Act, 1972".

In its affidavit, the government took exception to the petitioners' attempt to "falsely colour the local authority's lawful actions as extra-legal punitive measures targeting any particular religious community". It urged the court to hold the petitioner to terms for making the "false allegations".

It also submitted that the petitioner had cherry-picked two demolitions of illegal constructions and said none of the actual affected parties, if any, had approached the SC concerning the lawful demolition action.

Plea for damages

The wife of Javed Mohammad, main accused in Prayagraj violence of June 10, has approached the Allahabad High Court against the demolition of her house on June 12. Parveen Fatima stated in her plea that the property was in her name and was gifted to her by her father, but officials stuck a notice in her husband's name. She demanded compensation, action against the guilty officials and government accommodation till her house is rebuilt.

EATING SAFE

Gujarat tops food joints' hygiene rating, Tamil Nadu comes second

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

GUJARAT tops the list of food establishments that have been given the highest number of hygiene rating certificates in 2021-22, followed by Tamil Nadu, according to the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) that has awarded till March this year over 16,000 such rating certificates, which is compulsory for food businesses before commencement.

According to officials at FSSAI — a statutory body for laying down science-based standards for articles of food and regulating the manufacturing, processing, distribution, sale and import — more and more food establishments, like restaurants, cafeterias, bakeries, sweet shops and meat retail shops in India are coming forward to get the ratings as it helps drawing customers to their joints.

In 2020, 1,837 such establishments were awarded the certificates, while in 2019, the figure stood at 867.

Moreover, officials said, smaller food business operators (FBO), such as dhabhas, food trucks and even mid-day meal kitchens are being covered under the Hygiene Rating Scheme (HRS), which was first initiated in December 2018 in Maharashtra on a pilot basis, and was later launched across the country.

Till March this year, 16,059 food establishments in the country got the coveted rating.

In Gujarat, the figure stood at 4,340, followed by 2,532 such food joints in Tamil Nadu. Haryana stood third, with 2,210 establishments getting the rating.

In Karnataka, 973 such food establishments were part of the scheme. While in Kerala, 114 food joints got the certificates, in Telangana, only 47 food establishments went for the scheme.

"This score encourages businesses to ensure hygiene standards and empowers consumers to make an informed choice when they eat out," the official told this newspaper.

Hygiene rating is a user-friendly, technology-driven scheme under which food service establishments are rated on their hygiene and food safety compliance with a score from five, which is the highest rating, to one, which is the lowest. "The number of such food establishments obtaining hygiene rating certification is increasing steadily. This gradual increase indicates increasing awareness of the scheme," the official said.

BRO CAFES ON 75 BORDER ROADS SOON

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

WHAT would you not give for hot fritters and tea as you drive through the cold, dizzy heights in the border regions in Kashmir or Arunachal? How disappointing when it's just empty miles you see before you! Not any longer.

BRO Cafes will shortly open on different sections of border roads with the Border Roads Organisation (BRO). The Ministry of Defence has given the green signal for these wayside amenities at 75 locations in 12 states and Union Territories.

The MoD in a statement said: "These are intended to provide basic amenities and comfort to the tourists and lead to boosting of economic activities in border areas, besides generating employment for the local people. These wayside amenities will be branded as 'BRO Cafes'."

Since the inaccessibility and remoteness of these roads preclude widespread commercial deployments, the BRO, by virtue of its presence, took it upon itself to open such facilities at remote places, the MoD explained.

The amenities will come up in public private partnership mode with agencies, on license basis, which will design, build and operate the facilities as per BRO guidelines.

The facilities include parking for two and four wheelers, food plaza/restaurants, restrooms for men, women and the differently abled, first-aid rooms, MI rooms, etc. Selection of licencees will be done through a competitive process.

The terms of the agreement will be for 15 years which may be further extended for a period up to five years.

Nineteen BRO Cafes will come up in Arunachal Pradesh, two in Assam, seven in Himachal Pradesh, 12 in Jammu and Kashmir, 14 in Ladakh, five in Rajasthan, 11 in Uttarakhand. West Bengal, Sikkim, Punjab, Nagaland, Manipur are the other states where the wayside amenities will get established.

The Border Roads Organisation has its reach in the remotest border areas and besides addressing strategic needs, it is instrumental in socio-economic upliftment of the Northern and Eastern border regions. This has resulted in increased tourist influx in these hitherto inaccessible scenic locations.

India, Australia discuss enhancing defence ties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

Rajnath Singh with Australian Deputy PM Richard Marles in Delhi | SHEKHAR YADAV

> Bilateral defence cooperation between India and Australia is an important pillar of our Comprehensive Strategic Partnership that is an important factor of stability in Indo-Pacific —Rajnath Singh

IN a bilateral meeting in New Delhi on Tuesday, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and Australian Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Defence Richard Marles committed to give fillip to the India-Australia Joint Working Group (JWG) on Defence Research and Materiel Cooperation. The group will hold its meeting in Australia this year. This JWG is a crucial mechanism for boosting ties between defence industries.

In a joint statement, the Ministry of Defence (MoD) said, "The two ministers reviewed the existing defence cooperation activities which have been increasing despite challenges of Covid-19 pandemic and discussed ways to enhance further cooperation."

The two ministers welcomed the growing diversity and frequency of defence exercises and exchanges between the two countries and "undertook to build upon operational engagements through the India-Australia Mutual Logistics Support Arrangement."

The ministers reviewed the defence and security pillars of the India-Australia Comprehensive Strategic Partnership (CSP). In June 2020, India and Australia elevated the bilateral Strategic Partnership concluded in 2009 to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership. They reaffirmed their commitment towards implementation of the Comprehensive Strategic Partnership based on mutual trust, common interests and shared values, of democracy and rule of law, the MoD said.

The ministers reviewed strategic challenges and the regional security situation and reaffirmed their shared objective of an open, free, inclusive, prosperous and rules-based Indo-Pacific region.

The ministers also discussed further opportunities for industrial cooperation to increase the resilience of supply chains and deliver capabilities to their respective defence forces. Both sides agreed to explore means to grow connections and opportunities.

WHO nod for Hyderabad firm to make J&J vaccines

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE World Health Organisation (WHO) has approved Hyderabad-based biotechnology and biopharmaceutical company, Biological E Limited, to manufacture Covid-19 vaccines for Jansen/Johnson & Johnson. This manufacturing would be done through US technical support and DFC financing. DFC is a US International Development Finance Corporation which invests in development and advancing US Foreign Policy.

"This is great progress for Quad Vaccine and the US India Health partnership," said a US Embassy spokesperson.

"Quad partners have collectively committed $524 million to the next phase of CEPI's (which is an innovative global partnership working to accelerate the development of vaccines against epidemic and pandemic threats) work, accounting for about 50 per cent of total public investors," the joint statement released by Quad members after the summit last month had declared.

On June 4, the Drugs Controller General of India had approved the Biological E's Corbevax vaccine as the first heterogeneous Covid-19 booster vaccine in India for adults above 18 years of age and above after six months of administration of primary vaccination (two doses) of Covaxin or Covishield vaccines for restricted use in an emergency situation. They have the capacity to produce over 100 million monthly doses of vaccines.

Besides, earlier this month, the J&J terminated its agreement with the Emergent Bio Solutions Inc to manufacture its vaccines. Emergent had also warned that termination of the agreement would make J&J owe them anywhere between $125 million to $420 million.

The Biological E. Limited began its operations in 1953 as a biological products company manufacturing liver extracts and anti-coagulants. It later launched its Biotechnology Division (now Vaccines and Biologics Division) and begin large-scale production of DPT vaccines as early as 1962.

'Told ED Vipassana is the reason for my endurance'

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

Rahul Gandhi with sister Priyanka and party leader K C Venugopal | PARVEEN NEGI

SPEAKING on his marathon questioning by the Enforcement Directorate for the first time, Congress MP Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday said he could endure the long sittings and remain undeterred because of the strength of the party workers and leaders. However, when asked by the probe team the secret of his patience and endurance, Rahul claimed he gave the credit to Vipassana.

Addressing Congress workers at the party headquarters, Rahul said he was quizzed in a small room measuring about 12x12 feet by three ED officials for about 10-11 hours and gave the replies patiently without moving much, which surprised the interrogating officers.

"Officers would come and go; perhaps they needed to take instructions from seniors. But I didn't move even after 11 hours of questioning. Then they told me they were tired and asked what was the secret (of my stamina)? I thought I would not tell them the real reaon. I told them that I practise Vipassana and while doing it, one has to sit for 6-8 hours and hence I am used to it. But the truth is that I was not alone in that room; each Congress worker and leader was with me," said Gandhi.

In 2015, Rahul's disappearance on the eve of the budget session had hit the headlines. He had gone to Myanmar to attend a Vipassana course.

Sonia seeks more time to appear before ED

New Delhi: Congress president Sonia Gandhi has sought more time from the ED to join the investigations in National Herald case, citing post-Covid health complications. The probe agency accepted her request to postpone her date of appearance by a few weeks till her complete recovery from Covid-19 and lung infection. The agency has summoned the 75-year-old Congress leader for questioning on June 23. Congress communications department in-charge Jairam Ramesh tweeted that since Sonia had been strictly advised rest at home, she wrote to the ED seeking postponement of her appearance. ENS

ADMISSION

CUET-UG from July 15, applications reopened

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE National Testing Agency (NTA) will conduct the Common University Entrance Test (CUET) as an entry gateway for admission to top colleges across the country on July 15, 16, 19, 20, and August 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10.

Over 300 undergraduate and postgraduate courses are up for grabs in the exams being held for the first time. It will be held in a computer-based mode, the NTA announced Wednesday.

There will be no CUET papers on July 17 due to the NEET-UG and between July 21 to August 3 due to the JEE (Main) exams.

The notice said the application process would reopen from June 23 and conclude on June 24. "Since it is the only exam for entry into the Central University System (UG courses), the registration is once again being opened for one last time on the demand of the candidates," the NTA said.

Currently, 9,50,804 candidates have registered for admission into 86 universities. The exam will be held at centres in 554 cities across India and 13 cities outside.

POLITICAL CRISIS

MAHA REBEL GAME SHIFTS FROM GUJARAT TO ASSAM

Disgruntled Sena MLAs stay put at luxury hotel near Guwahati airport in BJP-ruled state

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

REBEL Shiv Sena legislators led by Eknath Shinde flew to Assam on Wednesday morning amid the deepening political crisis in Maharashtra.

The disgruntled MLAs landed at the Guwahati airport on a chartered flight from Surat. There were no official figures as regards the number of passengers. It varied from 45 to 89. "It was a non-scheduled flight that landed at 6:40 am today (Wednesday). I was told it had 45-55 passengers. I don't have the exact figure," a senior airport official told this newspaper.

The MLAs were received by Assam BJP MP Pallab Lochan Das and party MLA Sushanta Borgohain. Later, they were taken to Radisson Blu, a five-star hotel near the airport, under police protection. An IPS officer led the police.

Sena leader Eknath Shinde briefly spoke to journalists outside the airport. "There are 40 MLAs here. I don't want to criticise anyone. We want to carry forward Balasaheb's Hindutva," he said.

Another chartered plane with four MLAs from Maharashtra arrived here in the evening to join the rebel legislators who reached the city earlier. The four MLAs — Chandrakant Patil, Yogesh Kadam, Manjula Gavit and Gulabrao Patil — arrived from Surat.

Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma has been sucked into the eye of a storm over Maharashtra politics being played in Guwahati at a time when the state is facing a devastating flood.

The Congress slammed him for "conspiring" to topple the Thackeray government. Assam Congress chief Bhupen Kumar Borah alleged the Shiv Sena MLAs were held to ransom.

Lurinjyoti Gogoi, who is the chief of opposition party Asom Jatiya Parishad, said he viewed the developments as a blatant attempt by the BJP to destroy Marathi regionalism. He said it has always been the BJP's strategy to subjugate regional forces and narratives.

However, Sarma welcomed the "visit" of the MLAs. "Lakshmi arrived. Hotels do not usually get guests during floods. If people come and stay in Assam, we will benefit from taxes," he said.

Sena MLAs went to visit wildlife sanctuary: Raut

Senior Sena leader Sanjay Raut said the rebel legislators had gone to Assam to visit wildlife sanctuary. "Earlier our MLAs were taken to Surat, now they are airlifted to Assam. MLAs need to visit different parts of the country, so their current visit to Guwahati is part of this plan," Raut said, adding that rebellion is not new to Sena

SHIV SENA FACES 4TH REBELLION IN 56 YEARS

Three of them happened under the watch of Bal Thackeray

Latest rebellion, a first under Uddhav Thackeray, is most significant as it threatens to bring down the party-led government in Maharashtra

Other revolts took place when Sena was not in power in the state

- First jolt in 1991 when Chhagan Bhujbal decided to leave. Despite Bhujbal having helped the Sena to win a sizeable number of seats in Maharashtra, Bal Thackeray had appointed Manohar Joshi as Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly. In the subsequent assembly session, Bhujbal along with 18 Sena MLAs left the party and announced their support to the Congress which was then ruling the state. But, 12 rebel MLAs returned to the Sena fold the same day. Bhujpal joined the NCP in 1999. He is currently a minister and cabinet colleague of Shinde in the MVA government

- In 2005 Sena faced another challenge when Narayan Rane left the party and joined the Congress. Rane, who subsequently left the Congress, is currently Union minister in the NDA govt

- In 2006 Uddhav Thackeray's cousin Raj Thackeray decided to leave the party & form his own political outfit - the Maharashtra Navnirman Sena

POLITICAL nuances are difficult to read, however dramatic they are. Take this one, the recently released Marathi movie Dharmaveer. The movie is the biographical drama covering the story of Thane's late Shiv Sena leader Anand Dighe, who is said to have mentored Eknath Shinde.

CM Uddhav Thackeray was supposed to watch the movie along with Shinde this month. However, the CM left midway the movie clarifying later that he was emotionally unable to watch the scene showing Dighe's death.

The fact is Shiv Sena supremo Balasaheb Thackeray shared a very uneasy relationship with Dighe, who ruled Thane as a king and even overruled Thackeray's orders. The buzz in Maharashtra is that Shinde has not only followed his late boss but has gone a step ahead.

"Shinde was a very close aide of Uddhav. He may not be a good speaker but he is a very good organiser. His management skills helped the Sena expand its base in Thane and its tribal belt," said a Shiv Sena leader.

He shared a good relationship with former CM Devendra Fadnavis as well.

Two Sena MLAs escape from 'trap' of Shinde

MUMBAI: Two Shiv Sena MLAs "slipped out" of the Gujarat Police dragnet in Surat to tell their side of the story in Mumbai. Nitin Deshmukh and Kailash Patil have promised support for Thackeray. Shinde has denied the allegations. He said he had himself allowed them to go.

Deshmukh alleged the Gujarat Police tried to kill him by giving poisonous injections. "I was under the impression that Shinde as a minister was taking us to Surat. Later I realised it was a forced trip. I tried to run away, but Gujarat Police stopped me," claimed Deshmukh.

He said he has no health issues, but a Gujarat doctor told him that he suffered a heart problem. "They gave me some injections that made me uncomfortable. At least 200 Gujarat Police personnel followed me. Some of them even beat me up when I tried to escape," he claimed.

Another Sena MLA Patil claimed Shinde had misguided him by saying that he was to attend a dinner at Thane. Patil reportedly walked more than 4 km and hitchhiked to return to Mumbai.

He said shortly after boarding a bus carrying pro-Shinde MLAs, he realised that Shinde had something else on his mind. ENS

Bengal govt pauses rural job scheme as Centre holds funds

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

IN an unprecedented move, the West Bengal government has decided to press an indefinite pause button on the rural job guarantee scheme in the state as the Centre is yet to approve its labour budget for the 2022-23 fiscal. Officials in the districts have been asked not to initiate any work under the MGNREGA.

Sources in Nabanna, the state secretariat, said the decision was followed by the Centre's decision to withhold the release of ₹6,500 crore under the MGNREGA after a national-level monitoring team had raised questions over the way funds had been spent in some areas and the state government's answers were not satisfactory.

The TMC government's decision of stalling the works under the scheme is said to be significant as the state will go to panchayat elections next year and the scheme benefits the voters in rural Bengal.

Earlier, the state government used to allow the MGNREGA works even if there were delays in the approval of the labour budget by the Centre. "This is because the Centre had never stopped the fund flow under the scheme. But this time the unprecedented decision has been taken because the state is not in a position to afford the risk of launching work under the MGNREGA as there is a realisation that the Centre is unlikely to release the funds in near future," said the official.

The state government's decision has already been communicated to the district magistrates who are sending messages to the block development officers (BDOs). "You are requested to proceed very slowly as the labour budget for this FY is yet to be approved. You are again requested not to approve any material-based scheme until further communication," a message to a BDO reads.

While the Centre pays the entire wage bill for the people employed under the MGNREGA, the state bears 25 per cent of the material cost of the project under the job scheme.

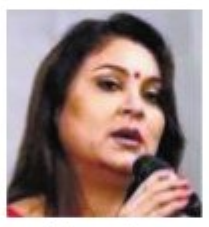
Assam CM's wife slaps ₹100 cr suit on Sisodia



Dismisses charges

Riniki had dismissed the charges and said when not a single PPE kit was available in Assam, she had reached out to an acquaintance to deliver them

Manish Sisodia gave a political statement and dragged my client Riniki Bhuyan Sarma. She had donated the PPE kits under CSR (corporate social responsibility) activities

Riniki's advocate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

RINIKI Bhuyan Sarma, wife of Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, has filed a ₹100 crore defamation suit against AAP leader and Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia over the latter's corruption allegation regarding purchase of PPE kits during the pandemic period.

The suit was filed in the court of civil judge Kamrup (Metro). Advocate Padmadhar Nayak said, "Manish Sisodia gave a political statement and dragged my client Riniki Bhuyan Sarma. She had donated the PPE kits under CSR activities."

Earlier this month, there was a war of words between Sisodia and the Assam CM. Referring to a media report, Sisodia had accused Sarma of indulging in corruption by awarding contracts of PPE kits and other Covid-related items to his wife and son's business partners. The AAP leader had asked as to why the firm linked to Sarma's wife was awarded the contract at ₹990 per PPE kit when another firm was given only ₹600 for the same on the same day.

Sarma had then hit back at Sisodia, threatening to file a criminal defamation suit against the Delhi Deputy CM. "Stop sermonising and I will see you soon in Guwahati as you will face criminal defamation," Sarma had tweeted.

The AAP had lodged a complaint with Guwahati Police demanding that a criminal case is registered against Sarma over the "PPE kits scam". The party also petitioned Governor Jagdish Mukhi in this regard.

BSP MLA claims she has minister's support

A week after three MLAs, including the lone SP and a BSP MLA in Madhya Pradesh joined the ruling BJP, adding to the ruling party numbers in the Vidhan Sabha, the other BSP MLA Rambai Thakur has claimed that state's urban development minister Bhupendra Singh has promised to support her in all development endeavours. She made the statement while campaigning for BSP candidates in local body polls in her constituency Patharia (Damoh). This has triggered speculations that she will side with the BJP in the Presidential polls. Rambai was among the seven MLAs who had supported the previous Kamal Nath government for 15 months.

Local polls turn report card for Cong MLAs

Being seen as the semi-final before the 2023 year-end Vidhan Sabha election in the central Indian state, the upcoming local body polls will largely decide the fate of Congress MLAs in the next assembly polls. State party chief and former CM Kamal Nath has made it clear that the performance of party's official and supported candidates in various assembly segments during the June-July local body elections will be the actual barometer/report card of the performance of the 96 sitting MLAs of the grand old party and it will play a key role in deciding the prospects of them being fielded again in the upcoming assembly polls.

AAP stunned ahead of Bhopal city election

AAP's efforts to create a niche for itself in MP politics through the upcoming local body polls suffered a setback right at the state capital. The party's candidate for Bhopal mayor post Rani Vishwakarma silently withdrew from the race on Monday. The local AAP leadership, however, got to know about it on next day only. While alleging that she opted out of the poll race due to pressure from rivals, the AAP leadership is now left with no option but support former Congress leader Rayeesa Malik, who has filed papers for the June 6 mayoral polls.

Incessant showers inundate parts of Kashmir, key highway closed

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

CONTINUOUS rains in the last few days have flooded several low-lying areas of Kashmir Valley. The downpour also led to flash floods leading to closure of Jammu-Srinagar national highway. Weather officials said the situation has improved since Wednesday afternoon and there is no forecast of heavy downpour in the coming days.

Water level in Jehlum river at Srinagar crossed the danger mark of 18 ft at 6 pm while several other waterbodies in central, north and south Kashmir were flowing above the danger level.

An official of the Flood and Irrigation department said people living along the banks of Jhelum have been alerted to remain vigilant. A police official said 24 nomadic families living on the banks of Vaishow and Sunman nullahs were rescued by them.

A group of 14 trekkers is stranded near Tarser Lake in south Kashmir. A rescue team has been rushed to the spot to rescue the stranded trekkers.

The authorities also rescued 24 tourists stuck near Sinthan Top road in south Kashmir's Anantnag district.

The Srinagar-Jammu national highway has been closed for vehicular traffic after a major portion of the road at Samroli in Udhampur district was washed away by flash floods. Due to the closure of the highway, thousands of trucks are stranded on both sides of the highway.

Officials said it would take a few days to make the highway traffic worthy again.

In a major relief, the rainfall has stopped in the Valley since Wednesday afternoon.

12 MORE DIE IN ASSAM FLOOD FURY

Guwahati: Twelve more persons died in the floods in Assam on Wednesday. With these, the death toll in the rain-induced floods and landslides in the Northeast went up to 138 – 100 in Assam, 32 in Meghalaya and 6 in Arunachal Pradesh. Close to 54.57 lakh people are still affected in 4,374 villages of 32 districts in Assam

BISHNOI GANG

Netas, bizmen allege ransom phone calls

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

AFTER the murder of singer Sidhu Moosewala, many Punjab politicians and businessmen have been complaining of getting extortion calls from gangsters claiming to have links with the Lawrence Bishnoi gang, which allegedly orchestrated singer's assassination.

One new name accusing the Bishnoi gang of making extortion calls is former deputy CM O P Soni. Sources said that Soni received a threat call from gangsters demanding ransom. The caller claimed he was one of the members of the Bishnoi gang and demanded money from him failing which he was threatened of dire consequences. Following this, Soni registered a case.

A few days ago, former Ajnala MLA Amarpal Singh Bony also reportedly received an extortion call. Since then, the police have increased Boney's security.

Agnipath: Protesters to pay as UP babus begin calculating damages

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE tally of violent protestors arrested by the UP Police in connection with the anti-Agnipath stir has reached 1,120, with 595 arrests during the past 24 hours. The authorities are busy making assessment of damages to the public property during the protests as they intend to make the protestors pay for it.

As per sources, the district police authorities and field officers were directed to initiate recovery process after indentifying the persons who indulged in destruction of public property during the stir.

According to the Additional Director General of Police (Law and Order), Prashant Kumar, the police would be generous while dealing with the student protestors keeping their future in mind but made clear that those who indulged in burning trains, damaging buses, police vehicles, police outposts and chowkies, and ransacking the shops would have to pay for the damages.

The ADG claimed that the recovery would be made after identification of the trouble-makers through photographs and video footage. The identification process was already on in districts including Ballia, Varanasi, Aligarh, Mathura and Agra. "Recovery notice would soon be served on those who were involved in vandalism, arson and damaging public property," said another senior police official.

UP State Road Transport Corporation (UPSRTC) chief general manager, Technical, Sanjay Shukla confirmed that the corporation was asked to assess the damages to buses during the protests.

502 held for arson

Of the total 1,120 protestors held so far, 618 were arrested for violation of Section 151 of the CrPC and 502 arrested for arson and vandalism

Raids held at 12 places in Mumbai

"Searches were conducted at 12 locations in Mumbai at the premises of accused, which led to recovery of incriminating documents," the CBI said. The CBI action follows a complaint from the Union Bank of India, leader of the 17-member consortium which had extended credit facilities to the tune of Rs 42,871 crore between 2010 and 2018. The complaint alleged that the Wadhawan brothers and DFL director Sudhakar Shetty along with other accused entered into a criminal conspiracy to cheat the banks. The FIR also names Amaryllis Realtors LLP, Gulmarg Realtors LLP, Skylark Buildcon, Darshan Developers, Sigtia Constructions, Creator Builders, Township Developers, Shishir Realty, Sunblink Real Estate and other unknown persons including public servants.

Afghanistan quake kills 1,000 people, deadliest in decades

1,500 also injured in quake that struck rural area; toll may rise, warn officials ▌ Disaster poses major test for Taliban govt as many int'l aid agencies have left

KABUL

A POWERFUL earthquake struck a rural, mountainous region of eastern Afghanistan early Wednesday, killing 1,000 people and injuring 1,500 more in one of the country's deadliest quakes in decades, the state-run news agency reported. Officials warned that the already grim toll may still rise.

Information from the remote area near the Pakistani border remained scarce, but early footage from villages tucked among the rough mountains showed residents picking through rubble of collapsed stone and mud-brick houses.

The disaster posed a major test for Afghanistan's Taliban government, which seized power nearly 10 months ago as the US and its NATO allies prepared to pull out of the country and has been largely shunned by the world community since.

Rescuers rushed to the area by helicopter, but the response is likely to be complicated since many international aid agencies left Afghanistan after the Taliban takeover. Moreover, most governments are wary of dealing directly with the Taliban, a reluctance that could slow the deployment of emergency aid and teams typically sent after such natural disasters.

In a rare move, the Taliban's reclusive supreme leader, Haibatullah Akhundzadah, who almost never appears in public, called for "the international community and all humanitarian organizations to help the Afghan people affected by this great tragedy and to spare no effort to help the affected people."

"We ask God to save our poor people from trials and harm," he said in a statement put out by the Taliban spokesman.

The disaster hits at a time when Afghanistan is already deep in one of the world's worst humanitarian crises, with millions facing increasing hunger and poverty after the cutoff of international financing to the Taliban. That has prompted a massive aid program, but to avoid putting money in the Taliban's hands, the world has funneled funding through the U.N. and other humanitarian agencies — a system that may be too slow for an emergency response to the quake.

What's more, reaching rural areas even in the best circumstances remains difficult in Afghanistan, a landlocked nation just smaller than Texas with rutted mountain roadways that may now have sustained significant damage.

The 6.1 magnitude quake had its epicenter in Paktika province, some 50 km southwest of the city of Khost, according to neighbouring Pakistan's Meteorological Department.

The European seismological agency, EMSC, said the earthquake's tremors were felt over 500km by 119 million people across Afghanistan, Pakistan and India.

Some remote areas of Pakistan saw reports of damage to homes near the Afghan border, but it wasn't immediately clear if that was due to rain or the earthquake, said Taimoor Khan, a disaster management spokesperson in the area. Mountainous Afghanistan has long been vulnerable to devastating earthquakes. AFP

UN scrambles to provide aid to affected families

GENEVA

THE United Nations' humanitarian agency said on Wednesday it was scrambling to get emergency shelter, trauma care and food aid to the scene of a deadly earthquake in Afghanistan.

The UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) said humanitarian partners were preparing to assist affected families in Paktika and Khost provinces, in concert with the Taliban authorities. "Immediate needs identified include emergency trauma care, emergency shelter and non-food items, food assistance and WASH (water, sanitation and hygiene) support," the OCHA said.

"Given the unseasonable, heavy rains and cold, emergency shelter is an immediate priority."

The 5.9-magnitude quake struck hardest in the rugged east, where people already lead difficult lives in a country in the grip of a humanitarian disaster made worse by the Taliban takeover.

The OCHA said the Taliban's disaster management and humanitarian affairs office had delivered food and emergency tents to some families living in the open but further help was needed. AFP

Xi warns against expanding military alliances

BEIJING

CHINESE President Xi Jinping warned against "expanding" military ties on Wednesday in a speech ahead of a virtual summit with top leaders from Russia, India, Brazil and South Africa.

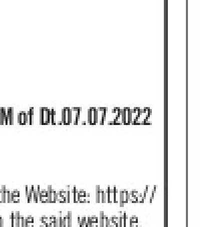
Beijing is hosting the meeting of the influential club of BRICS emerging economies, which accounts for more than 40 per cent of the global population and nearly a quarter of the world's gross domestic product. Three of its members — China, India and South Africa — have abstained from voting on a United Nations resolution condemning Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Xi told the BRICS business forum that the "Ukraine crisis is... a wake-up call" and warned against "expanding military alliances and seeking one's own security at the expense of other countries' security". China and India have strong military links with Russia and buy large amounts of its oil and gas. In a call last week, Xi assured his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin that China would support Moscow's core interests in "sovereignty and security" — leading the United States to warn Beijing that it risked ending up "on the wrong side of history". South Africa, one of the few African countries wielding diplomatic influence outside the continent, has also not condemned the Russian military action. Xi took a swipe at US and European Union sanctions on Russia in the speech on Wednesday, saying "sanctions are a boomerang and a double-edged sword".

Leaders of the Group of Seven (G7) nations will meet next week in Germany to discuss how to proceed with sanctions against Russia.

'World divided'

The BRICS summit takes place as Russian troops continue to pummel eastern Ukraine after invading the country four months ago. China and India have both ramped up crude oil imports from Russia, helping to offset losses from Western nations scaling back Russian energy purchases.

India bought six times more Russian oil from March to May compared with the same period last year, while imports by China during that period tripled, data from research firm Rystad Energy shows.



"The world has been divided into east and west after the Ukraine war," Manoj Joshi, a New Delhi-based author and geopolitical commentator said. AFP

> BRICS gives a platform for Putin to stand with leaders from emerging economies. It sends a message to the US and the EU that they have not succeeded in isolating him and Russia

Sri Lanka's economy has completely collapsed: PM

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA'S economy has "completely collapsed" and it is facing a far more serious situation beyond the mere shortages of fuel, gas, electricity and food, Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe warned on Wednesday, underscoring the urgency of arriving at an early agreement with the IMF to obtain an additional credit facility.

Sri Lanka has been facing the worst economic crisis since independence in 1948 which has prompted an acute shortage of essential items like food, medicine, cooking gas and fuel across the island nation.

Giving an update to Parliament on the government's mitigation measures taken so far, Wickremesinghe, also the finance minister, said, it is no easy task to revive a country with a "completely collapsed" economy, especially one that is dangerously low on foreign reserves. "If steps had at least been taken to slow down the collapse of the economy at the beginning, we would not be facing this difficult situation today. But we lost out on this opportunity. We are now seeing signs of a possible fall into the very bottom. However, we must come out of this situation. If not, we will be unable to seek solutions to any other issue in the country," he said.

A woman sits outside a police station in a protest demanding cooking gas in Colombo | AP FILE PIC

"In order to do this, we must first resolve the foreign reserves crisis faced by us," he said. For Sri Lanka, the Prime Minister said, the only safe option now is to hold discussions with the International Monetary Fund. 'In fact, this is our only option. We must take this path. Our aim is to hold discussions with the IMF and arrive at an agreement to obtain an additional credit facility."

The foreign currency crisis has crimped imports, creating severe shortages of food, fuel, electricity and other essentials like medicines, forcing people to stand in long lines to fulfill basic needs.

The Indian credit lines since January this year have provided a lifeline to Sri Lanka.

But Wickremesinghe said India would not be able to keep Sri Lanka afloat for too long.

"We have taken loans amounting to $4 billion under the Indian credit line. We have requested more loan assistance from our Indian counterparts. But even India will not be able to continuously support us in this manner," he said. PTI

Ukraine plays down chances of reaching grain shipments deal

ISTANBUL

UKRAINE on Wednesday played down the chances of reaching a UN-brokered agreement with Russia that could allow blocked grain shipments to start flowing across the Black Sea.

Kyiv's words of caution came after Turkey — a key player in talks aimed at easing growing alarm about global food security — said a deal with Moscow allowed one of its ships to leave a Russian-held port for the first time since the Kremlin's February invasion.

"We welcome the UN Secretary-General's efforts to unblock grain exports from Ukrainian seaports," the Ukrainian foreign ministry's spokesman Oleg Nikolenko said on Twitter. "Consultations are ongoing. Yet no concrete agreements on holding talks with Ukraine, Russia, Turkey and UN have been reached so far. Security remains a key element of Ukraine's position."

Turkey has been spearheading efforts to resume grain deliveries across the Black Sea that have been stalled by minefields and a Russian military blockade of Ukrainian ports.

The Turkish defence ministry had earlier said that its "constructive" meeting with Russian generals in Moscow resulted in "an understanding for future negotiations between Turkey, Russia, Ukraine and the UN". "In this context, it was decided that a four-way meeting should be held in Turkey in the coming weeks, after a meeting with the Ukrainian side and the UN," the defence ministry said. AFP

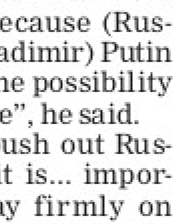
Kyiv needs 'Marshall Plan' to rebuild, says Olaf Scholz

BERLIN

UKRAINE needs massive financial help to rebuild after the devastation wrought by Russia's invasion, German Chancellor Olaf Scholz said on Wednesday, saying the reconstruction would be a "task for generations". Citing the US initiative to help western Europe rebuild after World War II, Scholz said he had invited Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy to participate in the G7 summit starting this Sunday, to "agree on what such a 'Marshall Plan for Ukraine' would look like".



While the European Union has already mobilised billions for Ukraine, the country will require many more billions in the next year, said Scholz.

The financial needs can only be covered with the participation of international organisations and other large donor countries, he said.

Scholz underlined that backers of Ukraine must be prepared to maintain their support for a long time. For now, Ukraine and Russia are "still far from negotiations... because (Russian President Vladimir) Putin still believes in the possibility of a dictated peace", he said.

To help Kyiv push out Russian invaders, "it is... important that we stay firmly on course — with our sanctions, with our financial support for Ukraine". AFP

Swiss govt to lift ban on medical use of cannabis

GENEVA

THE Swiss government on Wednesday decided to lift the ban on cannabis for medical use from August 1.

Patients who are medically prescribed the drug will no longer need to seek exceptional permission from the health ministry. The sale and consumption of cannabis for non-medical purposes will remain prohibited. The government "intends to facilitate access to cannabis for medical use for patients" and was therefore lifting the ban on its use for that purpose, it said in a statement.

Parliament backed amending the law in March 2021. "The decision to use a cannabis-based medicine for therapeutic purposes will rest with the doctor, in consultation with the patient," the government said.

The new regulations could benefit thousands of people suffering from severe chronic pain, it added, including those with cancer and multiple sclerosis. Demand for cannabis-based treatments has risen sharply. AFP

Saudi crown prince visits Turkey

Ankara: Saudi Arabia's de facto ruler took a big step out of international isolation Wednesday, paying his first visit to Sunni rival Turkey since the 2018 murder of journalist Jamal Khashoggi. The talks in Ankara between Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman and Turkey's Recep Tayyip Erdogan come one month before US President Joe Biden visits Riyadh for a regional summit. Those talks will focus on the energy crunch caused by Russia's invasion of Ukraine. AFP

CBDT puts onus on bourses to deduct TDS on cryptos

It notified detailed disclosure requirements for virtual digital assets

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE new tax guidelines on transfer of virtual digital assets (VDAs) like cryptocurrency have put the onus of deducting 1% tax largely on exchanges.

The Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) on Wednesday notified detailed disclosure requirements for virtual digital assets (VDA) such as cryptos for TDS deductions, which will come into effect from July 1. Accordingly, a new section 194S has been inserted in the Income Tax Act. According to new guidelines, if transfer of VDA takes place through an exchange or broker, in order to avoid deduction of tax at multiple stages, tax may be deducted only by the exchange which is crediting/making payment to the seller. Where the transaction between Exchange and the seller is through a broker (who is not the seller), the onus to deduct tax is on both the Exchange and the broker. However, the onus will be on the broker, where there exists a written agreement between Exchange and broker that the broker should deduct tax.

If the VDA is owned by the exchange, though the primary responsibility is of the buyer or his broker, the exchange may enter into a written agreement with the buyer or his broker that in regard to all such transactions the exchange would be paying the tax. The new rules mandate the exchange to furnish a quarterly statement for all such transactions of the quarter on or before the due date and furnish its income tax return including all such transactions in the return. According to the new rules, if the consideration is in kind or in exchange of another VDA or partly in kind and cash, the person responsible for paying such consideration is required to ensure that tax required to be deducted has been paid in respect of such consideration. The new TDS provision says the non-primary VDAs like Deso/Monero are converted to an equivalent of primary VDAs like BT, ETH (Bitcoin, Ethereum), which have a ready INR market. Amit Maheshwari, Tax Partner, AKM Global, a tax and consulting firm said that the CBDT has covered the practical scenarios to facilitate smooth implementation of the withholding on consideration for transfer of VDAs. "The exchanges have to further disclose these transactions in their tax return and maintain a proper trail. However, this would be helpful to the buyers and sellers both since they can enter into contracts with the exchange for passing the responsibility to deduct tax on their behalf in VDA to VDA transfers or otherwise as well," Maheshwari said.

DoT cuts 3% floor rate on spectrum usage charges

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

In a relief to telecom service providers (TSPs), the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) on Wednesday announced removal of the 3% floor rate on SUC (spectrum usage charges).

The move of the government is going to benefit telcos as it would reduce their future outflows towards these statutory fees. "For spectrum acquired through an auction held after 15 September 2021 in different Access spectrum bands, no SUC shall be charged," said DoT in an order. "The weighted average is to be derived by the sum of the product of spectrum holdings and applicable SUC rate, divided by total spectrum holding. The weighted average rate should be determined operator-wise for each service area," reads the DoT order.

In 2016, the government had implanted the rule of 3% SUC to ensure that the revenues for the centre are protected. In the same year, the SUC for the telcos had been lowered. The move was welcomed by telecom operators, and they said the order will provide clarity to telecom service providers for the upcoming auctions. "We welcome and thank the government for the much-awaited DoT order regarding the levy of SUC charges for spectrum in 600 MHz, 700 MHz, 800 MHz, 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz 2500 MHz, 3300 MHz and 26 GHz bands. The order will provide clarity to telecom service providers for the upcoming auctions," said S P Kochhar, Director General, the Cellular Operators Association of India (COAI). Charu Paliwal, research analyst at Counterpoint Research, said the decision will be beneficial in easing out cash flow requirements considering the stressed financial health of the sector in India.

"The government's decision on scrapping of the mandatory requirement of upfront payment, spectrum payment can be made in 20 equal annual installments and option of surrendering the spectrum after 10 years are steps taken in the right direction. This will be beneficial in easing out cash flow requirements considering the stressed financial health of the telecom sector in India," said Paliwal.

RBI MPC panel looks for elusive balance between inflation, growth

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RBI's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) members, though remain vigilant of the inflation pressure, have not lost sight of the fact that growth can't be sacrificed in repressing inflation, the minutes of the MPC meeting shows.

The panel took solace from the fact that inflation would start coming down from the second half of the financial year. Most members barring Prof Jayant Varma were of the view that a total 90 basis points increase in two months (40 basis points in May and 50 basis points in June) would be sufficient for now to keep the menace of inflation at check. Prof Varma, like always, was the lone dissenter and pointed out that 90 basis points raise has been neutralised by a 100 basis points increase in inflation estimate for 2022-23. "At the current stage of recovery, the one-year ahead real rate must not be more negative than -1%. A fifty or sixty basis point hike would achieve this," said Ashima Goyal in her comments, adding that such a real interest rate, while not dampening the recovery much, will prevent a possibly inflationary further rise in demand and unsustainable current account deficit.

Dr Rajiv Ranjan in his comments said that while frontloading the hike in interest rate, it should be remembered that the pace of policy transmission has quickened after the introduction of the external benchmark-based lending rates (EBLR) in October 2019, and the therefore, the 90 basis points increase in the last two MPC meetings should have a better desired results of the policy changes than before.

Michael Debabrata Patra laid stress on the direction of the inflation rather than its level. "If headline inflation starts moving down in the second half, the objective of taking the policy rate above the level of future inflation will be achieved sooner than later, providing space to pause and reconfigure," he said in his submission. Shakti Kanta Das, the RBI governor, was more focused on the pre-pandemic level of policy rate and liquidity.

AUDIT

NFRA cites lapses in 'EY member firm' audit of Il&FS

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

INDEPENDENT audit regulator National Financial Reporting Authority (NFRA) has identified serious lapses in SRBC & Co LLP's audit of IL&FS for FY18 in its Audit Quality Review Report (AQRR).

The AQRR observed that had the audit firm been vigilant, losses of tens of thousands of crores to banks, creditors and investors could have been averted. The shadow bank defaulted in repayment of bank loans and failed to meet commercial paper obligations, among others, in September 2018, causing a loss of investor confidence in NBFCs. SRBC & Co did not have adequate justification for issuing the Audit Report asserting that the audit was conducted in accordance with the standards of auditing (SA) and that the financial statements give a true and fair view. "The Audit Quality is thus seriously compromised due to the large-scale non-compliance with professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements, and the inappropriate reporting made by the Audit Firm," the report said.

It added that if the audit firm had been "vigilant, shown professional skepticism, sufficiently challenged management assumptions and claims and strictly complied with its audit responsibilities, such lapses by IL&FS perhaps could have been detected much earlier and the tens of thousands of crore of losses and haircuts that the banks, creditors, and investors were ultimately saddled with would have been averted."

For instance, the total value of investments shown in the standalone financial statements of IL&FS as on 31st March 2018 amounts to 12,320 Crore, almost 50% of its balance sheet size.

Karmayogi Bharat may fall in Schedule A CPSE category

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

A new Central Public Sector Eneterprise (CPSE) is in the making. Karmayogi Bharat – the special purpose vehicle created under the Mission Karmayogi – could be categorised as a schedule A CPSE, government sources told TNIE.

The Department of Public Enterprises (DPE) has sent a proposal to this effect to the Public Selection Board for their consideration & recommendation. Currently, there are 70 Schedule A CPSEs, and if Karmayogi Bharat gets the necessary approvals, it could be the 71st Schedule A CPSE. All Maharatna, Navratna and some Miniratna CPSEs are in the Category of Schedule A CPSEs. The categorization of CPSEs into 4 Schedules, namely A, B, C & D is made on the basis of their importance to economy and complexities of problems. The parameters adopted for this include quantitative factors like investment, capital employed, net sales, profit, number of staff, number of units, etc. and qualitative factors like national importance, complexities of problems, level of technology, prospects for expansion and diversification of activities and competition from other sectors.

Zomato likely to buy quick commerce start-up Blinkit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FOOD delivery major Zomato is likely to acquire Blinkit, formerly Grofers. The Zomato board of directors will meet on Friday, June 24, and is likely to give its assent for the acquisition.

"A meeting of the board of directors of Zomato Limited is scheduled to be held on Friday, June 24, 2022, to discuss a potential acquisition transaction by the Company, the consideration for which may be discharged through issuance of equity shares of the Company by way of a preferential issue," Zomato said in a regulatory filing.

According to various reports, the deal is expected to value Blinkit at around $700 million, and SoftBank Vision fund is the largest investor in Blinkit.

Though Zomato has not mentioned that it will acquire Blinkit, it is said that the board will confirm the same on Friday.

Ever since the foodtech giant invested in Blinkit, there have been reports on its acquisition. Recently, Zomato provided a short-term loan of up to $150 million to fund the quick commerce Blinkit's capital needs.

Zomato had made seven investments in FY22, and it is bullish on the quick commerce sector. In December last year, Grofers was rebranded to Blinkit, and started focussing on delivery in 10 minutes.

Last month, at an earnings call, Zomato CEO Deepinder Goyal said the online penetration in grocery is so small in the country. "I think there is so much room to grow in terms of penetration. We want to be efficient with our capital and in the past, we have demonstrated that, by being more capital efficient while building our food delivery business as compared to anyone else in India," he said.

In the fourth quarter of last fiscal, Zomato reported a net loss of ₹360 crore and said that it is not planning for any more minority equity investments.

Carlyle acquires 25% stake in Nxtra

New Delhi: Telecom operator Bharti Airtel on Wednesday said that Carlyle Group has completed the acquisition of 25% stake in its subsidiary Nxtra Data Ltd (Nxtra). Under the agreement, Comfort Investments II will invest $235 million in Nxtra, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Airtel engaged in the data centre business. "Bharti Airtel and Comfort Investments II, an affiliated entity of CAP V Mauritius Limited, an investment fund managed and advised by affiliated entities of The Carlyle Group (together, "Carlyle") today announced an agreement under which Comfort Investments II will invest $235 million in Nxtra," said Airtel. The post-acquisition, enterprise value of Nxtra is $1.2 billion and Carlyle will hold stake of nearly 25% in the business upon completion of the transaction. ENS

CBI arrests MD of OPG Sec in colocation case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE CBI arrested Sanjay Gupta, owner of Delhi-based OPG Securities, for his alleged role in the NSE colocation scam late on Tuesday.

"He was called for questioning yesterday (June 21) and arrested after the investigators found him non-cooperative and evasive," a source said .

The triggers for Gupta's arrest were alleged destruction of evidence and attempts to bribe Sebi officials through a syndicate in Mumbai.

His name figures among others in the FIR lodged in 2018 in connection with the scam . The agency has already arrested former NSE MD Chitra Ramkrishna and former group operating officer Anand Subramanian for their alleged roles after the scope of the investigation was widened in February , post a Sebi order against the former MD and others .

OPG Securities allegedly benefited at the cost of other exchange members and their investors by gaining unfair access at NSE's colocation facilities between 2010 and 2015 . By getting allegedly unfair access to market data feed splits of seconds before other entities , the broker member benefited through connivance of unnamed Exchange officials who also gave him access to the exchange's secondary server , alleges CBI .

Inflation poses challenge in the near term: ITC

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

CIGARETTES-to-FMCG conglomerate ITC in its annual report on Wednesday said the unprecedented inflationary headwinds pose significant challenges in the near term and remain a key monitorable for the FMCG industry.

During the year, the report says, the FMCG industry witnessed moderation in growth mainly due to subdued demand conditions especially in rural markets, high inflation eating into household budgets and high base effect in certain categories such as Staples & Convenience Foods.

"Health & Hygiene personal care products witnessed demand volatility in line with varying intensity of the pandemic, while remaining significantly above pre-pandemic levels. Discretionary/Out-of-Home categories witnessed strong growth on a favourable base and surpassed pre-Covid levels driven by improved mobility and progressive return to normalcy," it said.

The year saw an unprecedented increase in prices of key inputs such as edible oils, packaging materials, soap noodles, fuel, logistics, etc. which, according to the company, exerted considerable pressure on margins.

FMCG major Britannia earlier in its report also warned of diminishing purchasing power and demand due to the economic circumstances resulting in fundamental shifts in consumer behaviour, which it said would adversely impact the market for packaged food products.

FMCG companies have been bearing the maximum brunt of rising commodity prices and geopolitical tensions which have forced them to pass on some part of the cost to consumers. As per a recent NielsenIQ report, FMCG sector volume fell 4.1% in Q4 FY22 from last year due to a fall in consumption across all zones and town classes, but more prominently in rural markets.

LIC STOCK RISES, NOT LIKELY TO TOUCH ISSUE PRICE IN A YR

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) ended in green for the third consecutive session on Wednesday but shares of the state-run insurer are unlikely to cross the initial public offering (IPO) price even a year from now, according to the target price assigned by global brokerages.

The best target of ₹930 given by Bank of America (BoFA) is still falling 2% short of the issue price of ₹949, while Goldman Sachs' target price of ₹700 is 35% and JP Morgan's target price of ₹840 is 13% away from the issue price. Most target prices are estimated for the end of the current financial year 2023. This is a big setback for investors who participated in India's largest IPO ever launched. Since the stock hit bourses on May 17th at the discount of 8%, it has fallen about 24%. In the last three sessions, it witnessed marginal recovery from its 52-week low of Rs 650 and closed Wednesday session Rs 668.55 apiece.

JP Morgan's LIC price target in a year

Global brokerage JP Morgan initiated coverage on the stock with an overweight rating and has set a target price of `849 per share in one year. JPMorgan said that LIC's 0.75 times price to embedded value - as unduly harsh, even assuming no growth

Bank of America in a report said there is headroom for growth of the insurer. It is in the view that LIC stock is available at 47-70% discount in comparison to the private players. A global player in its segment, LIC can outperform going forward due to its widening penetration, analysts at BoFA noted.

Global brokerage JP Morgan initiated coverage on the stock with an overweight rating and has set a target price of ₹849 per share in one year. JPMorgan said that LIC's 0.75 times price to embedded value - as unduly harsh, even assuming no growth.

It said that in reality LIC has picked up growth recently and forecasted a growth of 6% in FY22-24 for the insurer.

"We believe the market views LIC as an equity market proxy and recent weakness in markets is overdone. We don't foresee LIC trading at private sector valuations of 2-3 times P/EV (price to embedded value), but our March-23 price target of ₹840 is based on 1 times FY23 P/EV, which we think is justified on a mostly par back book, excess assets on the B/S (balance sheet), and a 185% solvency ratio," analysts at JP Morgan said.

COMPENSATION

Indian CEOs average salary at ₹11.2 cr in FY22

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WITH a shift in focus from cost optimization alone to also talent retention, CEO salary has now exceeded pre-pandemic levels.

According to a Deloitte survey, this is the first survey year where average CEO Total Compensation has crossed the ₹10-Cr mark to ₹11.2 Cr on Total Cost to Company with Long Term Incentives (LTI).

It's to be noted that the median CEO total compensation is ₹7.4 crore.

CXO compensation too has seen a bounce-back from the 2021 levels. COO, CFO and Business Unit Head, according to the report, continue to be amongst the top paid CXO roles.

"25% of pay for CEOs was in the form of long term incentives (e.g. ESOPs). For CXOs, long term incentives accounted for 20% of pay," it says.

Across most roles, size of the company had a greater influence on the pay levels as compared to the sector in which the company operates.

The report goes on to add that the increase in pay levels is accompanied by a strong performance linkage. 51% of pay for CEO is "at risk" or variable, which means that the realized earnings from this component could drop to zero in case of poor share price and/or fundamental company performance. Similarly, 41% of pay for CXOs is "at risk".

Even as the pay is rising, the report points out that executive talent continues to be highly mobile within and across sectors. "Two out of five companies analyzed had at least one CEO change since 2016."

India all-rounder Washington Sundar has signed with Lancashire for the upcoming county season. Following the approval of his UK visa, Washington, will link up with his new teammates at Emirates Old Trafford next month, the club announced on Tuesday. He will be available for the whole Royal London One-Day Cup competition, and fitness depending, a number of LV=County Championship games in July.

Madhya Pradesh bowlers keep Mumbai in check

PTI @ Bengaluru

AN unheralded bunch of Madhya Pradesh bowlers stuck to their respective plans as a star-studded Mumbai side toiled its way to 248 for five on the first day of the Ranji Trophy final here. Despite an opening stand of 87 between Prithvi Shaw (47, 79 balls) and Yashasvi Jaiswal (78, 163 balls), Mumbai failed to drive home the advantage on a pitch that wasn't conducive for strokeplay.

A 400-plus first-innings total will now depend on the season's highest run-getter Sarfaraz Khan (40 batting, 125 balls), who is looking good for another big knock with the dependable Shams Mulani (12 batting, 43 balls) giving him company.

While left-arm spinner Kumar Kartikeya was the tireless operator from one end, having sent down 31 overs for figures of 1 for 91, seamer Gaurav Yadav (23-5-68-0) was distinctly unlucky and the wickets column don't reflect the relentless pressure that he put on Mumbai batters, especially skipper Shaw. In fact, it was the pressure applied by Yadav which helped nippy seamer Anubhav Agarwal (19-3-56-2) and tall off-spinner Saransh Jain (17-2-31-2) to share the bulk of the spoils, with some intelligent execution of plans. umbai did enjoy the advantage during the first hour after Shaw opted to bat and, along with Jaiswal, took on the MP attack.The strategy to start with Kartikeya's slow left-arm orthodox seemed to have backfired when Jaiswal took him on and lofted him over long-on for a six.

RANJI TROPHY

Brief scores: Mumbai 248/5 in 90 ovs (Jaiswal 78, Sarfaraz 40 n.o) vs MP.

Meeting positive, AIFF election timeline soon

Meet between Indian football stakeholders and AFC-FIFA delegates on cordial lines, steps taken to have polls soon

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

CORDIAL, constructive and positive were some of the words used by those part of the meeting between the seven-member joint FIFA-Asian Football Confederation team and stakeholders of AIFF, including the Committee of Administrators (CoA) and state associations.

The visit was necessitated after the Supreme Court removed Praful Patel as the AIFF chief and dismissed the executive council for violating sports code and appointed a three-member CoA team to take care of day-to-day activities. The delegate is here to understand the ground reality and would meet all stakeholders to find a way forward. There were apprehensions that FIFA would ban AIFF for third-party interference.

The joint FIFA and AFC team is being represented by AFC General Secretary, Datuk Seri Windsor John, AFC Deputy General Secretary of Member Association Division, Vahid Kardany, three members from FIFA Kenny Jean Marie, Nodar Akhalkatsi, and Prince Rufus, FIFA RDO. Purushottam Kattel, and Yogesh Desai are the other members.

It emerged that the meetings were cordial and such a drastic step of suspension would be avoided. According to stakeholders attending the meeting, officials and representatives of state units, the meetings ended on a positive note.

Except for a few points, the draft constitution prepared by the CoA more or less had been agreed upon. According to those who attended the meeting, the constitution would be an amalgamation of both sports code and FIFA statutes. The constitution needs to be submitted to the court by July 15.

One sticky point in the draft constitution that allows anyone with at least two years of experience in state association in same capacity to contest AIFF election seems more or less agreed upon. Number of representatives in executive council is being worked upon.

According to some state unit representatives, they are in agreement with the CoA over the constitution. Also since state units have been taken into confidence, there are not too many issues that would act as an impediment in amending the constitution and hold elections as per the new laws. And this too has gone down well with the FIFA-AFC delegates.

According to one of the stakeholders part of the meeting with the FIFA-AFC delegate, the talks were constructive. "As a member association we are not objecting to the CoA as we are getting their support and working together for holding elections as early as possible," said one who attended the meeting on Wednesday.

Silver for Ronaldo in Asian Track C'ship

NEW DELHI: Ronaldo Singh dished out the best performance of his career as he clinched a silver medal in the sprint event of the senior category on the concluding day of the Asian Track Championship here on Wednesday. This was his third medal of the championships. He had earlier won bronze medals in 1km time trial and team sprint events. On Wednesday, he gave a tough fight to Japan's experienced rider Kento Yamasaki but finished with a silver.

India all-rounder Rumeli hangs up her boots

CHENNAI: India all-rounder Rumeli Dhar has announced her retirement from all forms of cricket. She represented the country in 4 Tests, 78 ODIs, 18 T20Is, with 1428 runs & 84 wickets across formats. "23 years of my cricket career that started from Shyamnagar in West Bengal, has finally come to an end as I announce my retirement from all forms of cricket," she said in a statement. She was a part of the Indian team that reached the final in the 2005 World Cup.

Archers go down in compound team events

NEW DELHI: Indian women's compound team lost the bronze play-off to France while the men's team was eliminated from the Archery World Cup Stage 3 after losing its quarterfinal to Turkey, here on Wednesday. A day after World Championship silver medallist Jyothi Surekha Vennam raised the expectation with a second-place finish, the women's trio of Jyothi, Priya Gurjar and Muskan Kirar lost 228-231 to Britain in the semifinal.

India seek fresh start against Sri Lanka

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AS India take on Sri Lanka in the first of the three-match T20I series in Dambulla Thursday, in many ways both the teams would be looking to accomplish very similar goals from the series. For starters, it will be India's first international assignment since their early exit in the 2022 ODI World Cup.

And this will mark the beginning of a transition of sorts under the leadership of Harmanpreet Kaur with Mithali Raj announcing retirement and Jhulan Goswami not being a part of the tour. The hosts, led by Chamari Athapaththu, will be playing their first home series since March 2019, second bilateral series since the pandemic broke in 2020. India are going in with a young team, with a considerable amount of experience in the batting order, but not all players are at the same stage they were in the last time these two teams played. Case in point is Jemimah Rodrigues, who was the player of the series in the five-match T20I series in 2019, has been in and out of the team since and is making a comeback of sorts in the T20I side after missing out on the World Cup. However, Harmanpreet seemed confident that the 22-year-old will come good in the upcoming series.

EFI amends statutes, life member objects

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

LIFE member of the Equestrian Federation of India (EFI) Colonel Rajesh Pattu has served a legal notice to the federation secretary-general, Col Jaiveer Singh. In the notice, he alleged the EFI secretary-general illegally amended statutes/constitution of the federation during the 60th Annual General Meeting held on March 27 this year.

Singh, however, refuted the accusations and claimed the statutes were amended in accordance with the National Sports Development Code following the waiver given to the federation by the ministry of sports and youth affairs.

He said as many as six NSFs including EFI were given the waiver by the ministry given the peculiar nature of the sport.

In the notice, Pattu through his advocates said the action of amending the EFI constitution "without there being being an agenda in the AGM notice is in direct violation of Article 10.2 of the Constitution of EFI". As per the notice, the AGM notice was circulated on February 24.

The notice says no discussion regarding the so-called proposed amendments can take place as neither the draft proposed amendments were circulated to the members of EFI in advance nor was there any agenda regarding the amendment of the EFI statute in the AGM notice. Pattu questioned the way the resolution was passed during the meeting.

"Since EFI is currently controlled by the Indian Army and most individual members and clubs were related to the Army, the aforesaid illegal resolution regarding amendment of the EFI statute was passed despite vehement protests by the representative of almost all state and UT associations, athletes as well as learned advocates," said the notice.

Consider Tejaswin for CWG selection: Delhi High Court

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

THE Delhi High Court has directed the Athletics Federation of India (AFI) to consider adding Tejaswin Shankar's name to the 37-strong athletics contingent for the upcoming Commonwealth Games in Birmingham. Shankar, the national record holder in high jump, had met the AFI's qualifying standard for the Games but hadn't taken part in last week's national inter-state athletics championships, an event that the AFI had made mandatory for athletes to take part in to be considered for the CWG. The one exception to that rule was elite athletes could skip the meet as long as they got permission from the AFI and according to them, Neeraj Chopra, Avinash Sable and Seema Punia were exempted as they had sought permission.

Shankar, a student at Kansas State University, had met the qualifying standard with a jump of 2.27m enroute winning the NCAA Championships in June second week. However, the AFI disregarded that performance. "Shankar did not want to be selected. He did not take permission from us before he competed in the USA," Adille Sumariwalla, AFI president, had said during a press conference after selecting the squad. According to livelaw.in, the single judge bench of Justice Jasmeet Singh said "his non-participation in the inter-state championship shall not be the sole criteria for rejecting his candidature". According to sports lawyer Parth Goswami representing AFI, they have told the court he is a good high jumper. "But AFI has a slot of 36 athletes for the CWG and around 40 athletes have attained the qualification mark.

DAY'S DIARY

Brexit vote

On this day in 2016, the United Kingdom held a referendum and voted to leave the European Union by 52 per cent to 48 per cent

WHAT IS BREXIT

A portmanteau of the words Britain and exit, Brexit, caught on as shorthand for the proposal that Britain change its relationship to the bloc on trade, security and migration

FOR AND AGAINST

Most voters in England and Wales supported Brexit. Majority support for remaining came from voters in London, Scotland and Northern Ireland

PRIME MINISTER'S TAKE

PM Theresa May has said Britain's exit from the EU will open up new markets and opportunities around the world for British businesses

HUES OF gender

After Pakistani-British singer Leo Kalyan addresses hate messages on wearing a strappy dress to Sonam Kapoor's baby shower, members of the LGBTQ+ community share their idea of making fashion gender-neutral

MONIKA MONALISA

PAKISTANI-British singer Leo Kalyan serenaded soon-to-be mama Sonam Kapoor by singing the actor's hit songs like Masakali at her baby shower over the weekend. The singer attended the event in a strappy short dress. Later, when he posted some of the pictures on his Instagram handle, he received a lot of hate comments to which the singer replied, "Hate comments don't bother me at all, because firstly – some of them are so genuinely funny, I share them with my friends and we laugh endlessly. Also, hate comments always remind me that just by casually living my life – I'm actually challenging people and societal norms,which means I'm doing something right. (sic)"

As the world celebrates Pride Month this June, the LGBTQ+ community finds it shocking to hear of such bullying messages. City-based stylist and model, Nirjal Basnet feels, "To begin with, people should understand what someone else does is not their business. I don't believe in that term 'cross-dressing'. My idea on clothing is not fixed on a particular gender. When I wear any outfit, I don't think it's cross-dressing. For me, clothes are not differentiated between genders," adds Basnet, asserting that the singer was just wearing whatever they wanted.

Fashion has always been popular for being flexible in nature. Stylist Anugrah Samuel Phillips finds the problem in labelling and typecasting things into black and white. "When it comes to fashion, back in the day, heels were meant for men to make them feel important. In different cultures, men wear skirts and silhouettes. But when you make things commercial, they start putting tags on everything and fluidity is lost. Fashion is so individualistic that you can't really put it in a box," explains Phillips.

The other problem the community faces is people not understanding the terminology and vocabulary of the community. For instance, Alex Mathew aka Maya The Drag Queen, says, "When people see a person dressed slightly differently, they make their own assumptions. A person can be a stage performer and straight."

REAL PICTURE

Here in Bengaluru to attend a wedding, Bollywood actor Aparshakti Khurana gets candid about his married life, his love for the city, his brother Ayushmann Khurrana, and much more

ANILA KURIAN

HE'S fun, he's young, he's talented, he's Ayushmann Khurrana's little brother — Aparshakti Khurana is all this and more. Having made a name for himself as a Bollywood actor, radio jockey, comedian, singer and TV host, Khurana is always ready to add more feathers to his cap. Here in Bengaluru to attend a friend's wedding, he tells CE that it's the first time he and his wife, Aakriti Ahuja Khurana, are leaving town without their baby girl.

"Aakriti and I have been married seven years before our baby came along. This wedding felt like a great opportunity for us to feel like newly-weds again," he explains, adding that their daughter is staying back with her grandparents for a week. "My wife and I both have common friends and this couple decided to do a destination wedding in Bengaluru. Not sure why they did but we jumped at the occasion and we can't wait to celebrate with our friends after so long," he adds. The couple is looking forward to a London trip soon after this too. "At this point, I think we have to do everything to keep the romance alive," he laughs.

This is Khurana's third time in Bengaluru. "Fourth, if you want to consider when I was at Bengaluru airport last month to catch a connecting flight," he laughs. "I love this city but I actually haven't had the opportunity to really check it out. I came here for corporate shows and the first time I visited, I was taken to a place that served the best coffee and pastries — I can't recall its name," he exclaims.

Having been part of several commercially successful films like Badrinath Ki Dulhania, Stree, Luka Chuppi and Pati Patni Aur Woh, he'll soon be seen in Vikramaditya Motwane's Jubilee on Amazon Prime Video. "The dubbing for that is going on now. I'm also part of another thriller film called Berlin with Ishwak Singh and another one called Dhokha produced by T-Series," Khurana says.

His brother Ayushmann, on the other hand, has been producing some critically-acclaimed works like Badhaai Ho, Dream Girl and Andhadhun. When do we get to see the brothers work together? "Hopefully, one day! He's doing a great job with every project and I'm really happy for him. But in order for us to work together, we need a story that works for both of us," he says.

So, what have the brothers learnt from each other? Khurana junior says, "To be patient because of him and he's learnt to play sports from me," he says, a proud grin on his face.

A divine salutation

Apsaraa, a production that is a combination of dance and music, seeks to explore divine femininity of nymphs through a dance-drama

G ULAGANATHAN

THE new dance production, Apsaraa — she, her, them, is out to explore and give us an insight into the celestial nymphs. Kavya Kasinathan, a city-based senior Bharatanatyam dancer and a disciple of Mithun Shyam, will present this dance feature on June 23 at Seva Sadan, Malleswaram from 6 pm.

Shyam, who has donned multiple roles on stage, including that of Sage Ramanuja recently at the inauguration of the sage's temple in Hyderabad, says, "Apsaraa is an ode to the divine feminity that has created historical impact and facilitated the dharmic evolution of humankind. This dance is an obeisance to the apsaras who changed the course of fate with a subtle look of their eyes." He has written the lyrics and choreographed the entire piece.

Apsaraa is a multilingual production which paints the experiences of five Apsaraas through the lyrics in Sanskrit, Malayalam, Tamil, Telugu and Kannada — each Apsara appears and dances to the lyrics in one of the languages. "This production weaves together stories of five Apsaraas, creating vivid imagery and also highlights the struggles and achievements that come with responsibility," adds Shyam.

Kasinathan, who has made her mark as a solo Bharatanatyam dancer, essays all the five roles. The musical score is by the well-known musician Karthik Hebbar.

Architecture: Pursuit of Combining ART AND TECHNOLOGY

Prof. (Dr.) Rama R. Subrahmanian

The profession of Architecture has a long history, both in India and in the rest of the world. Many monuments that have been built over centuries and across continents are testimony to the creativity and skill of architects.

An Architect is a visionary with creative skills to transform the built environment and impact everyday living. Architecture combines art and technology in a harmonious way. Architects have art in their hearts, and science in their minds. Architects' key skill is to turn ideas into reality.

Architects primarily make detailed pre-construction drawings that guide the process of construction.

The aspiring architect must undertake specialised professional training internships for practical experience to earn a degree. Unlike in other professional courses, the education process for architects lays stress experiential learning along with classroom learning.

The essential elements of Architectural Education are

- Skill development by use of manual drawing and softwares;
- Development of sound theory base
- Experiential learning by workshops, study tours and travel
- Professional internships and final year projects.

In order to practice Architecture, the graduate professional must acquire a license from the professional body, the Council of Architecture. Sound communication skills and good physical stamina are necessary skills to be developed. The practice of Architecture is benchmarked by awards and prizes. There are numerous award competitions that recognize great work with awards and citations.

Career opportunities

Oppotunities abound in the Government, public sector, private sector, with builders and developers, MNC setups, small/medium to large scale architectural firms, project management firms, real estate consultancies, and in academics. Most graduates work in small to medium firms initially, before moving on to either open their own firms or to join large design-construction corporates.

Areas of specialisation

- Urban Planning
- Urban Design
- Landscape Design
- Interior Design
- Building Engineering Management
- Energy Management
- Architectural Conservation
- Product Design.

(The author is Dean, Dayananda Sagar College of Architecture, Bengaluru)

Admission

Admission to the B.Arch course is through the National Aptitude Test in Architecture (NATA) which is conducted by the Council of Architecture.

Upcoming dates for NATA are July 7 & August 7, 2022.

This is an online test with multiple choice questions. The test can be taken at the test center of your choice. Registration is on https://www.nata.in

FIT BIT

PARIVRTTA SUKHASANA VARIATION HAND ON FLOOR

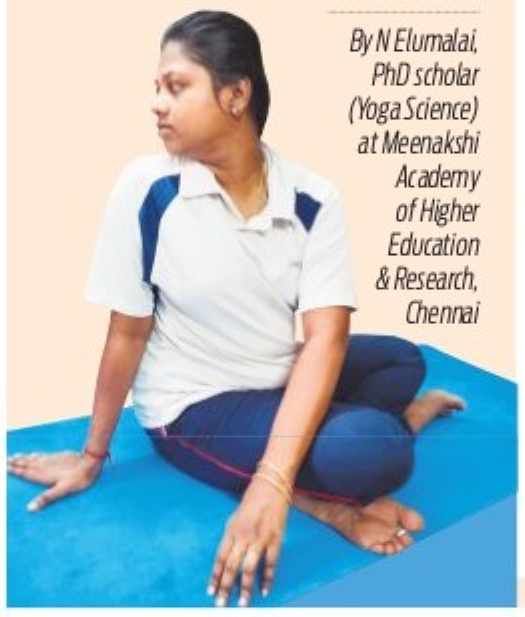
(Revolved easy pose variation hand on floor)

This is a beginner-level variation to explore advanced twists like Vakrasana, Ardha Matsyendrasana. The twist in the torso brings a stretch in the neck, hence this pose can be included in therapeutic yoga for thyroid imbalance or respiratory disorders. It opens the Manipura chakra, associated with personal transformation and power, boosts self-esteem, confidence and motivation.

STEPS

- Start in Sukhasana, back upright, shoulders broad and rolled back, chest open, palms on the knees, and chin slightly in. Stay here for a few breaths.
- Twist your body on the right by putting your left palm outside the right knee, fingertips touching the floor, and swing your right arm back to place the palm/fingertips on the floor behind the back, fingers pointing out.
- Inhale, push your navel to the spine. Exhale, turn and twist the torso with the neck to the right to gaze behind. Feel the stretch on the left side of the torso compressing the right side. Stay here for about five deep breaths.
- Inhale, turn the body back to the centre and with an exhalation, release your arms on the respective knees, in the Sukhasana.
- Practise on the other side (left), following the above instructions.
- Release and relax in Sukhasana Variation Arms Knees. If unable to sit with crossed legs, you can try Vajrasana or sitting on a chair.

By N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai



BENEFITS

- Helps to increase the flexibility of the upper back and spine.
- Stretches the upper chest, hips, neck and shoulders.
- Helps to massage the abdominal organs.
- Releases tension in the body and mind, improves breathing and cultivates internal heat.
- Helps to lengthen the torso and spine.
- Helps to stimulates the liver and kidneys and useful to energise the spine.
- Helps to stimulate the Agni (digestive fire).
- Great pose to get relief from sciatica, backache and fatigue.
- Reduces stress, tension and anxiety.

LIMITATIONS

- People with injury in the hips, neck, shoulders, spine, lower back, knees, pelvic floor muscles, or abdomen, should avoid this.
- Senior citizens can follow the twist by sitting on a chair.

① I have a very busy social life and have a soft spot for good food. How do I control my cravings?

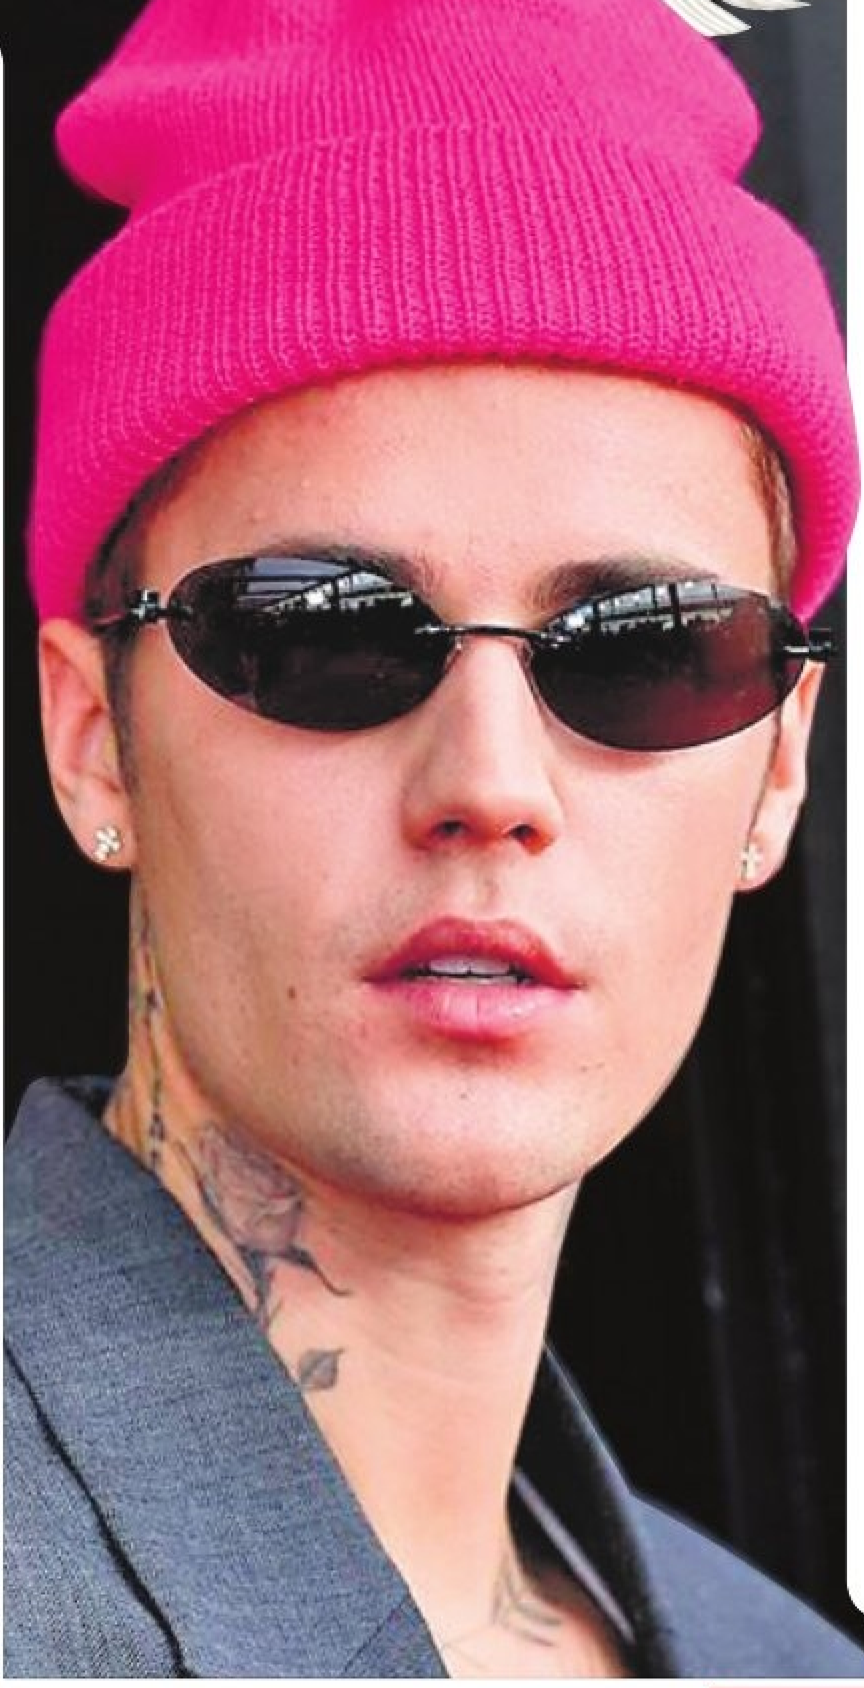
You can have your cake and eat it too. You have to learn to draw a line. Here I hope my party hacks help you. I am out every other day and I cannot afford to keep eating out as this will take a toll on my weight and health. So most of the time I have my dinner, and attend the party and nurse a glass of water. I do this as health is important. If it's a family dinner or a dine-out, then I never land at a party with an empty stomach. I always have a protein shake or omelette before I set out. This helps control hunger pangs and cravings.

② I put on weight during summers probably because I go overboard with mangoes. I have a wedding coming up. Shall I stop eating mangoes?

Mangoes are high in calories and should be limited to one a day. This is a seasonal fruit offering many benefits so please go ahead and have a mango a day. What you need to do is move all through the day, exercise for an hour, drink plenty of water, and include whole grains, lean protein and healthy fats in moderation. Create a calorie deficit, meaning eat fewer calories. This is the only mantra that helps in weight loss. Go ahead, start making changes now!

③ I always feel lethargic after working out. Is it normal?

Initially, yes as the body is not used to roughing it out. A good post-workout snack will help energise and heal. Apart from that rest, a hot shower and a good night's sleep will usually help. The other reason for lethargy could be due to low protein intake, low levels of vitamin D and too much exercise. Check on these parameters and make a change.



Recently, music sensation Justin Bieber took to Instagram to share his health condition called 'Ramsay Hunt Syndrome', a neurological disorder that results in the paralysis of the face. Read on to understand

STAYING SAFE FROM THE 'HUNT'

DR ANIL R

RAMSAY Hunt Syndrome is a rare disorder which accounts for 15-20 per cent of all facial palsy cases. It is caused by the Herpes group of viruses namely the Varicella Zoster Virus (VZV) which also causes chicken pox. The virus can stay inactive or dormant in the body for a longer period after chicken pox and can re-activate later to cause Ramsay Hunt Syndrome. This particular syndrome is considered a rare neurological disorder which leads to facial nerve paralysis and infection of the mouth and ear. Due to this, an affected person can witness some abnormalities in the ear such as a ringing sensation, tinnitus. Along with that, some may face issues like hearing loss in the affected ear as well.

In 1907, a physician James Ramsay Hunt discovered the virus and its characteristics, hence, the virus was named after him. Though the disorder is familiar as Ramsay Hunt Syndrome, due to the causative effects on ears, it is also known as Herpes Zoster Oticus in the medical literature.

Usually, this syndrome occurs in older adults and in those with weak immunity. The virus affects the facial nerve near the ears and hence there is a chance of change in the appearance.

Risk factors

Ramsay Hunt Syndrome is not a transmittable disorder but people who have not got chicken pox before, or people who are vaccinated for that can get chicken pox leading to the reactivation of the Varicella Zoster virus. It is recommended that the patient should not be in contact with people who haven't had chicken pox previously or have not been vaccinated against it, or those with low immunity, newborn babies or pregnant women, as they are in the high-risk group.

(The writer is consultant and head of the department of neurology, Manipal Hospital, Hebbal)

Symptoms

1. Severe pain in the ear
2. Lesions/blisters in or around the ear
3. Weakness on the affected side of the face
4. Loss of taste & hearing, vertigo, & dry mouth

All these symptoms may occur simultaneously or at different intervals. The long-term effects of the syndrome include hearing and vision loss, and even facial paralysis.

TREATMENT

Usually, with timely treatment, all the symptoms can be treated. Treatment is with antiviral tablets, pain-relieving tablets or the doctor may also add a short course of oral corticosteroids. It is always better to consult a doctor promptly as early treatment decreases complications.

NUGGETS

New algorithm could help detect tumours

Just as Netflix algorithm generates data to determine the shows one can choose to binge watch next, doctors will soon be able to predict how tumours can behave and thus offer personalised cancer treatments. A typical Netflix-style algorithm analyses data on how frequently a type of programme or film is watched, and whether it's liked or not. An international team of researchers from the University College London (UCL) in the UK and University of California, San Diego (UC San Diego) in the US have built a similar algorithm that can one day enable doctors to look at a patient's fully sequenced tumour and customise their treatment, the Independent reported. The study, published in the journal Nature, showed that the algorithm deployed Artificial Intelligence (AI) to follow the changes to DNA from the time a cancer starts to how it grows. —IANS

Call to eliminate cervical cancer in Commonwealth

Cervical cancer researchers, policy makers, academics, advocates, civil society and political leaders gathered in Kigali for the first time since the pandemic, to discuss the current challenges, priorities, and strategies for cervical cancer elimination across the Commonwealth. The event, which took place on Tuesday on the margins of the Commonwealth Women's Forum, focused on the theme 'Accelerating Cervical Cancer Elimination: Realities, Challenges and Opportunities', and sought opportunities to expand the role of women leaders to be advocates for elimination. Commonwealth disproportionately affected by cervical cancer delegates recognised the fact that the Commonwealth carries a significant cervical cancer burden, particularly in low- and middle-income countries — despite having only 30 per cent of the world's population —IANS

ZEE STUDIOS TO COLLABORATE WITH SHIVARAJKUMAR FOR VEDHA

The action-fantasy drama will be out in Kannada, Tamil, and Telugu

CE FEATURES

SHIVARAJKUMAR is one of the busiest actors in the Kannada industry, and at present, the focus is on his 125th film, Vedha. Directed by A Harsha, 60 per cent of the shoot is complete.

While the action-fantasy drama has been creating the right kind of buzz since its inception, the latest development is that Zee Studios will be collaborating with Geetha Pictures in backing the film. Vedha will be a multilingual film that will be out in three languages -- Kannada, Tamil, and Telugu.

An official announcement of the collaboration was made at a grand event where the motion poster was unveiled too.

Vedha has the tagline 'The Brutal 1960's' and is a period drama set in a rural backdrop. The film has Ganavi Lakshman of Magalu Janaki-fame playing the female lead. The cast also consists of Shwetha Chengappa and Aditi Sagar among other prominent characters.

Vedha marks the fourth collaboration of Shivanna and Harsha after Vajrakaya, Bhajarangi, and Bhajarangi 2. The technical crew of the film consists of music director Arjun Janya, cinematographer J Swamy, and editor Deepu S Kumar.

SHIVARAJKUMAR TO STAR IN COMPOSER ARJUN JANYA'S DIRECTORIAL DEBUT

The film is produced by Ramesh Reddy, who earlier backed the National Award-winning film Nathicharami

A SHARADHAA

ARJUN Janya, one of the most popular composers in Kannada cinema, is set to make his directorial debut. Shivarajkumar will be playing the lead in the film, and it will be produced by Ramesh Reddy, who earlier backed the National award-winning film Nathicharami, and yet-to-be released Gaalipata 2.

An excited Arjun Janya says, "Collaborating with Shivanna for my first project is God's blessing. Producer Ramesh Reddy is my biggest strength." Arjun adds that he has always been drawn towards filmmaking. "Right from childhood, I've been a fan of Mani Ratnam films, which used to haunt me. My longtime wish to become a filmmaker was finally on right track when I came across an interesting subject, and Shivanna gave his nod."

Arjun, who is tightlipped about the project, says that it deals with a unique but relatable subject. Besides scripting and directing, Arjun is also handling the film's music.

Producer Ramesh Reddy is equally thrilled to collaborate with Shivanna. "From the days when I was a mason, I have been a huge fan of Shivanna. I remember this one time when I went to Sadashivnagar after watching his film, Anand. But unfortunately, I couldn't see him and went back home hurt. Today, God has fulfilled my long-standing wish, and I'm extremely happy."

Revealing more on their plans, the producer adds, "Shivanna has already given a green signal. He has asked us to start the pre-production works after which he will schedule his dates for the project. We need three more months for the pre-production. There are a lot of surprises in the film, which will be divulged as we get closer to commencing the shoot."

Rajinikanth congratulates Rakshit Shetty and team for 777 CHARLIE

The film, which was released on June 10, has been declared a blockbuster at the box office

CE FEATURES

RAKSHIT Shetty's latest release, 777 Charlie, which marked the directorial debut of S Kiranraj, has been garnering rave reviews from critics and audiences alike. The film, which was released on June 10, has been declared a blockbuster at the box office.

In what comes as a shot in the arm for team 777 Charlie, Rajinikanth has called Rakshit to express his admiration for the film.

Sharing this news on social media, Rakshit said, "What an amazing start to the day! Received a call from Rajinikanth sir. He watched 777 Charlie last night and has been in awe of the film. He spoke highly of the making quality, the deeper designs of the film, and especially expressed his admiration for the climax and how it concludes on a spiritual note. To hear such words from the superstar himself is beyond wonderful. Thank you so much Rajinikanth sir."

777 Charlie is the heartwarming story of Dharma (Rakshit) who goes on a journey of self-exploration with his pet Charlie in tow, and he understands the meaning of life and unadulterated love. The film, which was backed by Rakshit's Paramvah Studios, also stars Raj B Shetty, Bobby Simha, and Sangeetha Sringeri in pivotal roles.

Dear Vikram to get a direct digital release on Voot Select

The film's trailer promises a gripping drama with a multi-narrative plot

CE FEATURES

SATISH Ninasam, Shraddha Srinath's upcoming film, Dear Vikram is set to exclusively premiere on Voot Select on June 30. The trailer of the romantic political drama was launched along with the official announcement of the release date. The film, earlier titled Godhra, is written and directed by debutant filmmaker KS Nandeesh.

Also starring Raksha Somashekhar, Vasistha Simha, Sonu Gowda, and Achyuth Kumar, the film comprises of a multi-narrative plot that revolves around the lives of Vikram (Sathish Ninasam) a journalist student, who stands up for what is right, and Nithya (Shraddha Srinath), an idealist who firmly believes in the importance of education.

Sathish, who is teaming up with Shraddha for the first time said that the biggest challenge they faced while making this movie was to match the schedules of the various actors, who were all equally busy with their commitments. "Moreover, we shot across Kukke Subramanya, Kurnool, Hassan, Bangalore, Bhatkal, Malaysia, and many more locations. We all have put in a lot of effort into this movie."

Shraddha added, "It has been a long time since I've done a Kannada film. I am extremely excited to see the response to its release. This is a very intense film and I expect people to discuss it a lot after its release. When I look back after 10 years, I would be proud to have acted and worked in a movie like Dear Vikram."

Vikram Ravichandran

'TRIVIKRAMA IS JUST THE BEGINNING'

A SHARADHAA

THE stage has finally been set for Vikram Ravichandran, the son of Crazy Star Ravichandran, who will finally test the waters with his debut film, Trivikrama. "I know I will pass for sure, but whether it is with distinction, merit, or second class, is what I'm waiting to know, '' says a confident Vikram, who is awaiting the release of Trivikrama on June 24. "My entry into cinema is not the result of a year's dream. It is my 25-year-old wish that finally comes to fruition now. Let's hope for the best," he adds. Excerpts

Keeping expectations in check

The Sahana Murthy directorial produced by Somanna has been creating a good pre-release buzz, and Vikram feels that it is the connectivity he has been building with the audience that has worked in the film's favour. "This is advantageous to both the film and me. The first thing any actor wants is to gain people's love, and I am happy with the way people are responding to the film's rushes. The songs of Trivikrama have been trending too. No matter what, my expectations are not high. I'm just open to receiving any kind of response.

Becoming the pride of his father and illustrious seniors

Vikram has been equally poured with love and wishes by his legendary father, and a bunch of Sandalwood stars, including Shivarajkumar. "In return, all I hope is to give them a successful film. I always have my father's blessings. I'm equally grateful to have good support and wishes coming from Shivarajkumar, whom I treat as my father. For all their wishes, I want to make them feel proud of my work," he says.

The curious case of nepotism

Vikram does believe that nepotism gave him a foothold in the industry but he did face his share of struggles with Trivikrama. "In the current phase of Kannada industry, it is not easy to stand out. Nepotism might give that first chance but not multiple opportunities. Being a star kid, there is always bigger expectations. People are curious to know what I have done, but never with a mindset to know 'how good I would have pulled off the role'. I feel and hope to touch their hearts," he says.

An experiment that is also commercially viable

Trivikrama throws light on two different personalities and defines it as a love story between a tiger and a deer. The actor explains that his first film is experimental but also gives importance to commercial aspects. "Going forward, I would love to lay my hands on content-driven subjects but not without a mass touch. Bottom line, I want to do good films. I aim to grow big, and Trivikrama is just the beginning," he says.

Moving away from the shadows

Ravichandran had expressed his sadness about not launching his son, and Vikram says that had his father launched him it would still be his dad's film. "Even if I do a mistake, the blame would have been placed on my father. Even if I do good, the credit still would go to my father. Why should I give my dad this burden? He has his directorial dreams in place too, and I should collaborate with my father only after I make a name for myself.

Self-belief is the key

"Just like how the first time to school or the first day in college or first love is memorable, my first film will be equally memorable. Trivikrama has given me all sorts of emotions, and I want to make sure that I gain the audience's confidence. It is only with this confidence that I can achieve what I'm aiming at. I believe in myself and I'm confident and capable that I can do something," says Vikram, who signs off by sharing his next big dream. "I'm eyeing to be part of Pan-India films"
